Wyatt, a worker

We've all heard the typical American story, the success story of a boy who rises to the pinnacle through application and hard work.
Such is the story of Kentucky's hard-working, industrious governor, Tom W. Wyatt. Now a candidate for the United States Senate.
As a young man he had to leave college to help his family. He took a job with a railroad but he thought he would be satisfied his work through his record as a public official needs no retelling at this date. The thousands of new jobs obtained for Kentuckians, the millions of dollars of new plants obtained for Kentucky is a matter of public record.

Kentuckians would do themselves a disservice if they failed to send him to the United States Senate to continue his work for them—and for us.

A Little Yappin'

Yappin' means smooth ones, all right. Smooth as the lightning and takes, his beard has grown. Now, did I ever tell you how I saw the Wed. Pinner out over here one fine one over here in Fairfax County?
Well, her husband had been dead about 10 days when this salesman came pushing through the old gate and stepped onto the porch.
"You're Mrs. Pinner, I believe," he said, tipping his hat politely. "I just heard your 'dear' one."
"I'm Yvonne LaMonte," she said. "Mr. Pinner, I represent the Arme Art Studio of Cincinnati. Do you have a picture of your late husband I want to enlarge it into a big beautiful portrait to hang on your parlor wall."
"No," said Mrs. Pinner, and said like "No. I don't have any of his pictures. I am not saying he'd have one made but kept putting it off. No. I don't have a picture."
The slicker sat silent for a moment while he schemed up a plan.
"Mr. Pinner, science is wonderful," he said. "I wish we had a picture, but that's all right. We can take a picture of him in his grave. You'd be right—$5.12, 000 pounds right. That is the staggering weight of Kentucky's record production of American cheese last year. It was mostly cheddar. The total was a whopping 14,393,000 pounds over 1960 production and easily kept Kentucky in the first and second place in the nation."
The new figure was compiled recently by the Kentucky Crop & Livestock Reporting Service, a cooperative effort of the Kentucky Department of Agriculture and the U.S. Department of Agriculture.
