Muskies downed by Paris 35-0

The Carlisle Musketeers opened their 1962 football season against Paris, Friday night at the local field and were defeated 35-0.
On the opening kickoff Paris started the scoring with a 80 yard return by Herbie Brin, with Guy Ormsby kicking the extra point.
The Muskies took the kick on the 15 yard line and moved up to the 30, but at this point a penalty set Paris up to score again. Quarterback Tommy Eads notched the second mark with a keeper from the 6 yard line, but Ormsby missed the extra point with a wide kick.
Later in the first stanza Bobby Markham picked up a fumble by Carlisle halfback Charles Marshall, and carried it 45 yards to paydirt. This time Pete Blake broke through the heavy line and blocked the extra point attempt.
Paris again received the pigskin from a Carlisle fumble, however this time the Muskie squad held them near the goal line for 4 downs. Carlisle threatened to score on the last play of the first quarter when Charles Marshall ran 59 yards to the Paris 16 yard line. From here Carlisle tried two running plays and a pass and on fourth down lost the ball on another fumble.
After exchanging the ball several times in the second frame, Charles Marshall completed a pass from the Carlisle 38 yard line to Cecil Daugherty on the Paris 30 yard line and Daugherty was able to carry the ball to the 25 yard line before being tagged. The Carlisle scoring threat was thwarted by the same trouble maker, a fumble.
After 3 ground plays and a pass, Skip Caywood went 19 yards through the middle for the touchdown and Ormsby added the P.A.T. for Paris's 3rd score. The half closed with the score 26-0.
The third quarter went scoreless, as the Muskies got their defense working better. Gayle Kelley racked up 15 tackles for top honors of the night. Doing their share in this area were Carl Evans, Vaughn Frey, Marshall Cox, Pete Blake and J. D. Smith.
In the final frame Ormsby kicked a 27 yard field goal and sub quarterback Tommy Atkinson topped the scoring with a 6 yard streak.
The Carlisle offense was ragged on the edges, but several plays worked well. Jerry Stumble was the thorn to the drives. Larry Anderson, Dickie Smart, Dwaine Green, George Marshall, and Steve Ockerman turned in a good performance in their first varsity game. Coach Leedy believes they show much promise for the future.
The Carlisle Musketeers will meet the Standford Wildcats at the local field at 8:00 p.m. this Friday. Stanford has one victory under their belt and the Muskie squad will be looking for their first victory.

Memories

By Lewis P. Scott
An item in the Mercury relative to the acquisition of the Pittman locker plant by Coatney Brothers recalls the services rendered by one of Carlisle's best known grocers in the days before the war—the First World War, that is.
There are a few of us left who remember Graeter's Grocery in the Graeter building on Broadway still owned by Miss Marguerite Graeter. Mr. and Mrs. Graeter ran the store and resided in the apartment above the store with stairways within and from the Broadway entrance.
The grocery proper occupied the Main Street side of the building, and the other side included a lunch room in front, back of which was storage space and the stairs to the apartment above. In the rear on this side was the bakery with it's great brick oven presided over by a professional baker from the city or sometimes from "The Old Country".
As one who spent many hours in the store in my early life it is not difficult for me to visualize the store

Keeping the soil at home

"I don't have much soil on top of my rocks, so I have to do something to keep the soil at home, if I want to continue farming" said Maxwell Burden of the Headquarters community a short time before he built about a mile of terraces, a few years ago. Last year, Aitkin Downing of the Mt. Zion community decided something needed to be done to reduce erosion so he built some terraces, and soil and water losses were greatly reduced this year. Frank Terrell, Miller Station road, terraced a field a few years ago and later reported. "I don't have to use as much fertilizer as I used to because my soil and fertilizer don't wash away." Reuben Cleaver on Walnut Grove road said "terraces saved my crops" following installation a few years ago.
Tobacco is being harvested and now is the time for farmers to observe the need for preservation of soil and water. If soil is being moved down the hill, it's time to stop it. Sheet erosion sometimes goes unnoticed but when gullies form, the farmer notices it. Now is a good time to decide on the erosion control measure needed.
Maybe a diversion channel at the base of a hill is all that is needed to keep hill water off of the crop land in the valleys. Maybe one terrace is all that is needed to reduce the length of the slope and reduce erosion. Some good bottom land has been unproductive because of wet weather springs or seeps. Tiling has helped solve this problem in many cases.
The Soil Conservation Service representatives, in Cooperation with the Nicholas County Soil Conservation District, are available to assist farmers in planning and applying conservation practices. Cost-sharing through the Agricultural Stabilization Conservation Service is possible in most cases.

School available for all children

The Nicholas County Board of Education offers special instruction to children between the ages of six and eighteen who are unable to attend school. Sometimes parents call and ask how much it costs to have a child taught in the home. There is absolutely no cost. This is a service furnished to children who are not able to attend school. The only requirement is that a physician must certify the nature of the disability.
While this program is operated by the Nicholas County Board of Education, all children in Nicholas county are included in the program and those that may have an interest or need for the services of this program should contact the superintendent of schools, Raymond J. Wesley, the teacher, Mrs. R. L. Talbert, or call any school in the county and report the need.

Nicholas County lunch program

The school lunch program in Nicholas county opened with a very optomistic outlook this year. During the first week of school an average of 820 Type A meals were served daily.
In service training for the school lunch personnel was held on Monday, August 27, prior to the opening of school on September 3. Miss Jane Lewis, District Supervisor, assisted Mrs. Elizabeth Clay, County Lunch Director, in conducting the in-service program. "Quality Food" is the theme for the county program for 1962-63.
All the schools in the county opened with a balance for operating funds. Last year Moorefield was able to help purchase a new stove, Nicholas County elementary helped purchase chairs and bought a new freezer for this year and Nicholas County high finished paying for their new chairs.
The school lunch program is supplemented by the Federal Government with commodities and reimbursements per plate and on extra milk sales. The best buy in Nicholas County is a Type A school lunch.
