

FAMILY GARDEN FFA PROJECT
Future Farmers of America and 4-H boys and girls in Eastern Kentucky are being encouraged to plant a family garden as a project, says Eugene Cecil, of Westover, chairman of the Eastern Kentucky Family Garden Improvement Association. Letters are being mailed to county Extension agents and agriculture teachers asking them to assist the youngsters in getting started on a project, Cecil said.

The setting is on the historic island of Rhodes and the story concerns the conflict between a young widow and an information gang of art thieves "Promise To Keep", by Agnes W. Dooley is a pictorial and documentary account of the life of Dr. Thomas Dooley, compiled by his mother, growing up in St. Louis, study at the Sorbonne, medical training at St. Louis University, commissioning as a U.S. Navy doctor, and his world-famous work with the refugees of Vietnam and among the people of Laos.

Another new book on the Bookmobile is "Observations of God's Timing in the Kentucky Mountains" by Ruth Huston. In her reminiscence of her life in the Kentucky mountains, Miss Huston writes of the years spent in church work, in Bible teaching in Sunday School, in homes and in summer camps to spread the gospel. Because of her interest in raising the spiritual level of young people in eastern Kentucky, Pikeville College conferred upon her the degree of Doctor of Humanities.

CARLISLE WEST HOMEMAKERS
The Carlisle West Homemakers club met at the home of Mrs. Eugene Neal, April 12.

Mrs. J. R. Hamilton and Mrs. Frank C. Henry started work on re-seating their chairs with Hong Kong grass, while Mrs. James Williams and Mrs. Grimes Caywood worked with cane.

After lunch, Mrs. Neal presided at the business session and the major lesson "Promoting Good Mental Health", was given by a tape recording by Mary D. Rowdler, Extension Specialist in Parent Education and Child Development. She started her talk with a poem by Bertha Adams Eickus.

BUFFALO TRACINGS
New hours for the Nicholas County Library are Friday evening, April 5, the members adjusted the library hours so that working people may have more opportunity to enjoy it and reference books. The board believed that closing the library at 5:00 p.m. deprived some people of library services.

Fifty-four outstanding new books were placed on your bookmobile last week "Seven Tears For Apollo" by Phyllis A. Whitney is a romantic suspense novel.
