IN MEMORIAM

W. Nathan Young became a member of the Board of Directors of the Deposit Bank of Carlisle, Kentucky, November 28, 1945. He served as a Director until his death, March 10, 1963. He was devoted to his bank and he proved to be a great asset by his timely and sincere contributions toward its policies. He knew almost every person in Nicholas county and adjoining counties. He knew their family background and was always able to tell some story or incident relative to them, many times humorous.

"Nate" was proud of the opportunities given him to serve his bank. We, as his brother directors will miss him. We shall always remember the example of his life, the influence of his character, his courage, even in ill health, his devotion to principles and his steadfast adherence to his convictions. We shall miss his warm humor and his gentle philosophy. We shall miss his wise counsel and prudent advice, but above all the Deposit Bank, has indeed suffered a great loss.

With a profound sense of personal loss, we extend to his wife, his children and his grandchildren our deepest sympathy in their bereavement.

Small Wheat Grower Asked To Register

Just why "small-farm" wheat operators are being asked to register at their ASCS County Office more than 7 days in advance of the 1964 wheat program referendum was clarified today by Mr. Wilson, Chairman; Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee.

"Small farms" are those with wheat allotments of less than 15 acres. All growers on such a farm will be eligible to vote in the May 21 referendum if the operator of the farm indicates in advance an intention to participate in the program as an allotment grower if the program is approved. This choice has to be made at the county office by May 13.

No one is being hold how to vote, Mr. Wilson emphasized. The referendum ballot is secret, and the producer does not have to declare in advance how he will vote on the program. The small-farm operator—like other wheat growers—may vote "yes" or "no" — as he chooses.

The Chairman explained that former legal provisions, under which any farm could produce as much as 15 acres of wheat without being subject to marketing quota penalties, have been terminated by the new law. The new law also removed authorization for production of up to 30 acres of wheat for feed or other use on the farm where it was produced.

For 1964, each participating small farm will have an allotment which will be the larger of (a) the farm's allotment based on the national allotment, or (b) 80 percent of the farm's average 1959-61 wheat acreage —but not more than 15 acres. All the producers on the participating farm's allotment acres may be marketed free of quota penalties.

Under the wheat program, a farmer with a small farm allotment who did not choose to participate in the program would be able to plant the larger of his allotment or his 1959-61 average acreage (but not more than 15 acres) without a marketing quota penalty. However, he would not be eligible to vote in the referendum, and he would not be eligible for diversion payments or price support. Wheat produced on such farms could be marketed, or used as seed or feed

Family Life Conference Held

The Nicholas County Family Life Conference met on Tuesday, April 16, at the Carlisle high school auditorium for the first of four parents sessions on, family relations. The specific topic was, "Your Teenager Needs You!"

Dr. Beverly Mead, assistant Professor of the Dept. of Psychiatry at the University of Kentucky Medical Center gave an informal lecture pointing out the basic characteristics of the normal teenager. Some of the traits which he called to our attention were: oversensitivity; signs of rebellion against parental control; voluminous appetite, a defensive attitude which sets the stage for a family "cold war", approval of other teenagers, extreme emotional peaks, and a "know it all" attitude to disguise curiosity.

Dr. Mead stressed the vast importance of keeping communication lines open between parent and child during the teen years. Parents must make the switch from a "talking to" pattern to a "talking with" attitude during this period. All discipline should be done in an open discussion basis where both opinions are considered. This one thing is the key which opens the door for good family relations as the child matures. A little praise goes a long way, and criticism should be very subtle and never in the presence of others. Also, mutual respect and the sharing of responsibilities are very important to the family group during these interesting years of development.

Dr. Mead's lecture was followed by a film, "Farewell to Childhood" which was about a teenage girl, her struggle toward maturity, and the roll the family shared in this process.

A panel discussion with audience participation concluded the program and everyone present left with a better understanding of their roll as the teenager's parents.

The second session will be on April 23 at the Nicholas County high school at 8:00 p.m. The subject to be discussed is the, "Physical and Psychological Development of the Teenager", which will be led by Dr. Lloyd Pendergrass. All parents are urged to share in this informative series.
