THE VAMPIRE BAT

things purported to be supernatural. When Mrs. Kahn, a domestic, and for many years in the employ of Professor Ahnott, finds her position insecure when the heir is about to take over the management, she plots with Zombe, a negro servant, to sicken the young Abbott of his bargain, to the extent that he will not be able to live a year on the island (a stipulation of the will), thus causing the property to pass to Donald's cousin, Zoe Ainsworth.

And so we find Donald and his fiance, Kay Adams, looking over the legacy, with a house full of guests, some invited and some inviting themselves: Lydia Adams, Kay's scheming aunt; Richard Grant, an unscrupulous young attorney, still hoping to win back Kay's favor, and willing to go to dangerous lengths to accomplish her alienation from Donald; Buster Craig and Ginger Drew, young lovers who thrill to adventure in strange places.

Then comes the hour when Mrs. Kahn will prove that the Vampire Bat is no myth. Intrigue follows on the heels of intrigue. There are strange disappearances in the dark; the Bat does make an appearance; Jugobia, a desperate criminal from the penitentiary, invades the island.

All in all it is a thrilling and suspence filled play. We hope to see you there at 8:00 o'clock Friday night April 26, in the Carlisle Auditorium. Tickets may be obtained from any senior and will be on sale at the door. Reserved 75¢, general admission 50¢.

PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF KENTUCKY

To All To Whom These Presents Shall Come:
WHEREAS, the latest and most up-to-date books on all subjects for all ages can provide the tools for future progress in our great state; and
WHEREAS, libraries and bookmobiles of Kentucky make possible a better education and a continuing education for all Kentuckians; and
WHEREAS, the development of better library and bookmobile service is of great concern to state government and to all communities, and
WHEREAS, interested citizens, local government officials and state officials must work together for greater improvement of library and bookmobile service throughout the state, through local and state planning;
NOW, THEREFORE, I, BERT COMBS, Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, do hereby proclaim April 21 - 27, 1963 as LIBRARY WEEK in Kentucky, and I urge all citizens to visit their local libraries and to ride with their county bookmobiles - to see the great needs which all provide for citizens and to discover what still must be done for Kentucky to be outstanding in this field.

Done at the Capitol in the City of Frankfort this 18th day of April in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred sixty-three and of the Commonwealth of Kentucky the one hundred seventy-first.

'Too Tough To Die' Play

To help in publicizing their play "The Ghosts Go West", under the direction of Mrs. Faye Wesley to be given Thursday and Friday evenings of this week, the seniors of Nicholas County high school have received from the Tombstone, Arizona Chamber of Commerce a publicity kit from Tombstone, "The Town That Was Too Tough to Die".

"Tombstone obtsined its unusual name from it founder, Ed Schieffelin who was told that all he would find in his prospecting here would be his tombstone, meaning that the Indians would kill him" said the Chamber of Commerce. Late in 1877, he made his first discovery of silver and named the location "Tombstone".

The play has a total cast of twenty-eight seniors: Allen Clay Stone, Dannie Smith, Jimmie Gates, Judy Caswell, Jean McClanahan, Linda McDonald, Ralph Wesley, Jessica McCree, Edward Taylor, Nida Smoot and Brenda Fryman.

W. F. Gaunce of Chestnut Street who is seriously ill was taken to the Nicholas County hospital, Tuesday night.

Small Growers Should Get Wheat Facts

Small growers, with farm allotments of less than 15 acres, should get all the facts about the 1964 wheat program so they can decide whether they want to participate in the program as "allotment" growers, R. O. Wilson, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee, said today. The operator of such a small farm has until May 13 to make his choice if he and other growers on his farm want to vote in the May 21 referendum on 1964 wheat marketing quotas.

The Chairman explained that the small farm operator who elects to participate in the program as an allotment grower has the same alternatives open to him as the larger wheat grower in deciding whether he wants to vote yes or no in the upcoming referendum.

"A 'no' vote by more than one-third of the growers voting would mean the same in the 1964 wheat referendum as it would have meant in the past," Mr. Wilson declared, "that is, no quotas, no marketing quota penalties, and price support at 50 percent of parity to growers who do not exceed their acreage allotments. As a matter of fact, however, growers have never turned down wheat marketing quotas.

"A 'yes' vote for 1964—by at least two-thirds of the growers voting—would mean a broader program than has ever been available in the past.

"We hope that all wheat growers, both large and small, will make it their business to become well informed about the actual issues, so that on May 21 wheat vote may be intelligent and truly representative of wheat-grower opinion."

For the past ten wheat crops, quotas have been approved by from 68.4 to 87.4 percent of the farmers voting in annual referendum on the question.

CARLISLE CLEAN-UP

Carlisle mayor, William Power, declares May 1 and 2, as Carlisle and Nicholas County "Clean-up Week," following Governor Comb's declaration to "Keep Kentucky Greener and Cleaner", Mayor Power declares May 1 and 2, as Clean-up days in Carlisle and Nicholas county.

Various clubs have selected projects for city beautification. The Garden Club has planted trees in the court house yard and on the lawn at Nicholas County hospital. The merchants are having window displays on the subject; the Boy Scouts and others have distributed questionaires to every home, calling attention to spring cleaning and beautification needs.

The city trucks with the cooperation of county trucks, will stop at every home in Carlisle, and pick up any and everything that should be disposed of.

Citizens are urged to cooperate with the city by having material near the curb on Wednesday and Thursday (this week).

Carlisle and Nicholas county is doing its part in "Keeping Kentucky Cleaner and Greener."

SPECIAL OPENING DATE FOR ASCS

Office hours 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

DEEDS RECORDED

Elizabeth Martin and others to Chester R. Mattox 51.60 acres on Beaver creek.

Lena Henry to Clinton Dayton, house and lot on Walnut street.

Visitors from west of Lexington will find the new Versailles road entrance a great convenience while the improved South Broadway entrance allows a fast flow of traffic in and out.

Be Our Trots Guest At Lexington

Readers of the Carlisle Mercury will be honored guest during the opening week of the Night Spring Meeting of The Lexington Trots starting May 7.

Knowing that many visitors from this area became fans of the newly offered night racing last year, the management of the famed mile track decided to make arrangemnts with this newspaper to offer free admission to our readers.

On another page of this issue of the Mercury you will find a coupon good for One Free Admission when presented at the grandstand entrance at the Trots. It is good for a grandstand seat or a seat in the brand new "railbird boxes", a group of box seats located at ground level along the entire stretch.

The nightly post time is 8:15 p.m. for the 25 night meeting with daily double window closing at 8:00.

Eight one mile races are presented every evening except Sunday and Monday with the seventh event listed as the feature race.

Some of America's top stables, large and small, have arrived at the track with much of the 1962 favorite drivers on hand. The winningest driver last year, Joe O'Brien, has been training a sizeable string in an effort to recapture his laurels. His nearest rival, Sanders Russell, is also here this week with 15 Alabama trained stalwarts primed to give their best.

The new clubhouse, proudly showing an improved view of the entire track, will be open nightly at 6:30 p.m., presenting a complete menu. The facilities are available to the public at all times.
