Lime is a Money-Maker on Kentucky Farms
Agronomical limestone is a good money-maker when properly used. Research at the University of Kentucky Experiment farms shows that, if lime is needed it usually returns from 3 to 5 times as much as the cost.

It's in Alabama. Before me it is spread a map of Alabama as about a summer camp Alabama for boys and girls 8 thru 16.

Woodhaven Summer Camp is located six miles from Florence, Ala., in sight of historic Forks of Cypress. This antebellum home, housing the family of Andrew Jackson and is the only remaining one of its type in the area. There are 225 acres of rolling land, at least half of which is covered with woodland. The entire back boundary lies within their home on West Main Street to see the Navy Terrier in their side yard.

Little Rock Mrs. Perry Vice (The following letter was much appreciated for interest shown by a reader of this column and newspaper. It really shows how dearly remembered are names and incidents of years gone by especially to those in distant states)

Dear Mrs. Vice: A note from a former Nicholas Co. girl, in regard to your last week news items concerning the picture of the Nicholas Co. teachers taken in 1910. One of those teachers listed was my mother, Miss Mollie Woodall (Hamilton) and I was so excited to see my mother's name in the paper after all these years. She has been dead twenty-three years this December.

My aunt, Mrs. Edgar Darrell sends me the Mar-Cur year book as my Christmas gift and I read it from cover to cover, not knowing to many of the people etc. since I have been 18 years, but I do enjoy reading it.

I followed in my mother's footsteps, being a teacher, of Home Economics; the past 17 years in Ohio. I just wanted you to know that I was excited and pleased to read the item and thought I'd let you know that even though I'm about 400 miles from you.

your news gets around. May your news continue to please folks as it did me. Sincerely, Mrs. Robert Linsard (Emeline Hamilton)

"Along the Way" We have written several news items concerning the home of Mr. Will Briley and daughter Miss Eve Briley near East Union. Best perhaps we failed to mention the old well and the last of the slave cabins. A well 30 or 40 feet deep was dug near the house a long, long ago. It is very pretty. Behind the grill is set a tall post and hung again the old dinner bell that rang many times to call workers from the old stone wall near the orchard.

Years and years passed and winter snows and rains there were many which fell on Cedars that stood at the recent place has fallen.

Behind the grill will be set flowering shrubs and winter snows and rains there were many which fell on Cedars that stood at the recent place has fallen.

and now two lovely weeping willows are in the yard. The old tree near the well that cast its shade in that back yard where Mr. and Mrs. Briley often sat on the summer evenings is also gone around the base. A flower bed will be made where pasted colors will peacefully beautify the lawn. So now to relatives the summer evenings in the ancient well and perhaps the cold water therefrom might be interested to know that now it is a reminder of "The Days of the Oaken Bucket."

'A Little Yappin'

By Nellie Crump
News of the Week. Mr. and Mrs. John Koehler of Morgan street were real sick with severe colds for several days. He just missed pneumonia by a hair and a half. I was told.

Paula Francis Morris, three months old baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Morris, has been suffering with "throat" for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Cropper and children of Flemingsburg were here Thursday night at the Blackberry Festival. Mrs. Cropper has recently been in Cincinnati to see her sister, Mrs. Chloe Bogus Garrett, who is recovering nicely from major surgery several weeks ago.

Jim Will Sadduth, who has been critically ill at the local hospital for several weeks, was moved to a hospital in Lexington.

The Galyon family planned to go to Cleveland, Ohio for the past weekend to see Miss Cloyd who underwent surgery at a hospital there but were advised to wait another week as Miss Cloyd was quite ill and unable to receive callers at this time. Miss Cloyd and Mrs. Galyon are employees of the Bourbon County hospital as administrator and secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Baker of Paris, formerly of Carlisle, and their family of eight boys and girls, including "Red" twins, were guests of Nellie Crump Sunday evening. Tommy is an employee of the Baldwin Hotel and was telling me about finding my name in and Bessey's written on the margin of the Gideon Bible in one of the hotel rooms in October, 1960.

—Yap— Navy Missile Parades. When the David Galyon family learned that I could not attend the Blackberry Festival, "Ottom" called to know if I would like a trip out to their home on West Main Street to see the Navy Terrier in their side yard.

Maybe you know what he was talking about, but I don't. I thought he meant some kind of a new dog, so help me! As he handles dogs are especially fond of dogs. I grabbed the chance to meet the little fellow. But it was a far cry from what was actually in the Galyon yard, extending entire length of the house. It was the biggest fight machine three months old baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Morris, has been suffering with "throat" for several days.
