Wheat Program Provisions Clarified

In response to questions raised by farmers regarding stored "excess" wheat and other wheat program provisions, R. O. Wilson, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee, today gave the following brief explanations:

1. Since marketing quotas will not be in effect for the 1964 wheat crop, wheat that has grown in excess of marketing quotas in 1963 or previous years will be subject to the original penalty provisions until July 1, 1964. After that date, stored excess wheat may be released without penalty and with no loss of acreage history on the farm where the wheat was produced.

2. If the 1963 wheat crop from a farm is small enough —because of underplanting or underproduction, arrangements may be made for the early release of part or all of the farm's stored excess wheat from previous crops without payment of penalty and with no loss of wheat acreage history.

3. Loss of wheat acreage history results where a marketing quota penalty is paid or becomes due on excess wheat. Therefore, if the producer pays the penalty on stored excess wheat in order to release it before July 1, 1964, his farm's wheat acreage history will be affected.

4. There will be no marketing quota penalties for planting in excess of acreage allotments for the 1964 wheat crop. However, producers who overplant their 1964 allotment will receive history credit only in the amount of their allotments.

5. Price support averaging 50 percent of parity na-
