Wool Price Announced For 1964
A short wool incentive price of 22 cents per pound and a mohair support price of 72 cents per pound have been announced for the 1964 marketing year. R. O. Wilson, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee, announced today.

Support for pulled wool will continue to be supported at a level comparable to the incentive price for shorn wool.

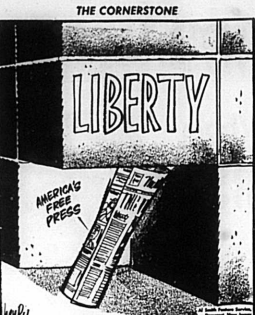

For 1964, the marketing year will be the calendar year, as announced last October. The 1963 marketing year is the 0-month period, April 1, through December 31, 1963.

The Chairman said that the incentive price for shorn wool continues the level in effect since the beginning of the program in 1955. The mohair support price is 4 cents lower than for the 1963 marketing year as required by law.

The mohair support is within a range of 2 percent of the comparable percentage of parity at which wool is supported.

Continuation of the 62-cent level for wool in 1964 was recommended by most of the producer representatives whose recommendations were sought by letter and public press, the Department of Agriculture has stated. Many of them expressed the view that this would keep the program on a sound financial basis.

Payments for producers for the 1964 marketing year will follow the same methods employed for the current 1963 marketing year, and will be made by check in April 1965. Shorn wool payments will be equal to a percentage of each producer's cash returns from sales. The percentage will be that required to

DON'T YOU READ BEFORE YOU BUY?
Most people do. They count on advertising in print to give them the information they want on products that interest them—information on features... designs... and prices, for example. People not only read about products and services, they show ads to their family and friends; they clip coupons for information and samples; they tear out ads to take along when they go shopping. People read an ad because they want to (it's never forced on them). They can even check back later; the message is still there. When you add it all up, print advertising—the kind you read in the pages of this newspaper—makes sense. And because it makes sense to the buying habits of consumers, print makes sales.

Most people read and then buy. Don't you? The Carlisle Mercury

A number of new books are to be found in the Nicholas County Memorial Library among them is, "Night Comes To The Cumberland," by Harry M. Caullin.
This book just recently published is of especial interest to Kentuckians. Every community leader should read this provocative sociological survey of the Cumberland Plateau area of Eastern Kentucky.
The implication of "Night Comes To The Cumberland" should be noted as they apply to Knobs' and Outer Bluegrass areas—especially what might be called the Agricultural Knobs (i.e. the counties of Bracken, Robertson, Fleming, Lewis, Greenup, Carter, Lawrence, Elliot, Morgan, Rowan, Bath, Nicholas, Montgomery, Menifee, Powell, Edell, Lee, Jackson, and Rockcastle).
The contributing factors of the Knobs and the Cumberland Plateau differ, but the same devastating results are inevitable, UNLESS the present trends are reversed. The Knobs Of The Capable Young People Must Be Stopped In Both Areas.

Who are the Aging?
(By Mary D. Browner)
With so much emphasis at this time on the problem of the aging, we might ask ourselves, "How old am I?" If we all look at ourselves in relation to the following statements by Samuel Ullman, we may not be as concerned over our birthdays as our attitudes. These statements were reprinted from Childhood Education, April 1961.
Youth is not a time of life. It is a state of mind. It is not a matter of red cheeks, red lips and supple knees. It is a temper of the will, a quality of the imagination, a vigor of the emotions. It is a freshness of the deep springs of life.
Youth means a temper of mental predominance of courage over timidity, of the appetite for adventure over the love of ease. This often exists in a man of fifty more than a boy of twenty. Nobody grows old by merely living a number of years; people grow old by deserting their ideals.
Years may wrinkle the skin, but to give up enthusiasm wrinkles the soul. Worry, doubt, self-distrust, fear and despair—these are the long, long years that bow the head and turn the growing spirit back to dust. Whether seventy, or six, there is in every being's heart a fire of wonder; the sweet amazement of the stars and the starlike things and thoughts; the undaunted challenge of events, the unfolding, childlike appetite for what comes next, and the joy in the game of life.
You are as young as your faith, as old as your doubt; as young as your self-confidence, as old as your fear; as young as your hope, as old as your despair. In the central place of your heart there is a wire-less station. So long as it receives messages of beauty, hope, cheer, grandeur, courage, and power from the earth, from men and from the Infinite—so long you are young.

make a ramp and slide these heavy loads on and off the truck. Don't lift a heavy carton or box, walk it on its edges. When you do lift—use your legs and not your back. Don't try to copy Samson or Atlas—if you've got a heavy load it move, get help. Your back is the only one you've got, treat it with care. The safe way is the easy way in the long run.

flameless ELECTRIC cooking is spotlessly clean
You can't really blame a flame for letting you know it's there. Products of combustion—like soot and fumes—are trademarks of flame-type cooking. Electric cooking is as clean as your electric light. No soot there. Or fumes. Just plain, pure electric heat. It's the most modern way to cook. Well worth a change, don't you think, to a flameless electric range.
