Eight o'clock Tuesday night saw Metz on his way back to Owingsville with 2200 copies of a 4-page folded leaf eight, his crew could take them apart and hand insert the section with a like number of eight-

Then with a little more toil we had our four pages of Sec-numbered correctly, maybe this schedule will help confube 5, six, 4, seven, 5, eight, 6,

WHY? . . . A ROAD MAP

Frankly speaking, after you get your copy of the Mercury this week, you probably will wish for a road map. To say the least, the pages are arranged in a haphazard fashion brought on by late arriving advertising—that much needed matter that makes the cash register ring and enables this product to be produced each week.

It all began Tuesday when a voice announced the ar-

Local Political Pot Begins To Simmer

Local politics, namely the race for city commission, began to simmer this week with the announcement of a write-in ticket composed of William Harper, Charles Darrell, George Merland, incumbents and Emory Hild The prospect later to write, in slate.

On the other hand rumor, though facts were hard to pin down, another write-in group composed of Billy Parker, Dan Rich and possibly Jack Morrison have tentatively stuck a toe into the water.

Two incumbent councilmen, Teddy Poe and Paul Garrett, running on separate tickets, have their name on the voting machines, and their awareness that it was necessary to file so many days prior to the primary election held last May.
