City To Hire Additional Police; May Pass Curfew

With an upswing in Carlisle's crime rate—the entering of churches during Sunday Services to steal pocketbooks, vandalism at a local lumber firm, stealing of gasoline from bulk storage tanks, speeding and reckless driving in a local business establishment—the city council voted to hire additional policemen and to attend a call meeting Thursday afternoon, Sept. 12, to discuss the time and age limit of a curfew to rid the city's streets of persons who have not learned to behave.

Water Trap
 Council voted to install a water trap on Mulberry Street to prevent sewer drainage and prevent deterioration of the road.

Building Permits
 Don Hughes, City Engineer, was granted a permit to build a new pipe for the water main.

Choir Rooms
 At least three parties owned by members of the churches were robbed during Sunday morning services, police reported Wednesday in connection with the thefts. But no arrests will be made by the Carlisle Police.
