News of the Week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Robinson of Spring street have been entertaing their granddaughter and family. They left Sunday for their home in Michigan.

Mrs. Lizzie Darnall, who has been ill for several weeks at her home on Spring street, was a patient at the local hospital during the week.

Cray Marshall has returned home from the Veterans' hospital in Louisville. He is somewhat wobbly but able to be up and about.

Firman "Buck" Wasson of High street was admitted to the local hospital last week for treatment.

Clarence Buntin of the county, who has been suffering with a broken hip the past year, is reported not so well for the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Frederick have sold their home on Walnut street hill and moved to the Nolan farm on the Pleasant Springs pike.

Austronaut Galyon

Ever been in Tom's River? It's not a river at all, but a city in New Jersey, not too far, yet not within walking distance of Hoboken.

Jesse Frank Mann, formerly of Carlisle, and his family live there. Frank is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mann of East Main street, Carlisle, and it was Mrs. Mann who phoned to Terry Trussell and David Ritchie (Gee, I hope nobody is left out). With the Price girls (Kathy, Aggie, Connie and Toni), little Georgie and Aunt Ollie, all had a real jubilee as they played games, won candy bars and ate every smidgen of that cake and ice cream—and the clouds had cleared away.

Hearts That Care.

Recently, the youngest son of a family near Carlisle (married fellow) was told by his father to "do something" with a pup that had been left on the road near the home. The family had enough dogs already, and being the undesirable job that it was to dispose of a helpless little pup that some heartless person had put on the road to be mangled, or wander off and starve to death, the older boys had "passed the buck" if that means what I think it does.

Anyway, the young man put the pup in the car beside him. It was one of those real cold mornings. The pup snuggled against his hip and whined. He stepped on the gas for he knew what he was supposed to do had to be done quickly.

Rounding a curve, there was not a soul in sight. The car slowed down and the misty-eyed teenager was very careful to put the pup away over to one side of the road in the grass. As he hurried to the car, he glanced back when he heard the pup whining and saw it trying to run after him. He met it more than halfway and said, "Come here, you."

As the shivering little fellow again snuggled against his hip, the young man glanced down at it and said, "Let's go back home." And they did!

Sowing Barley and Oats

To live through the winter and make good yields, barley and oats should be seeded not later than October 1. Most varieties lack winter hardiness for later planting. Sowing extra amounts of seed will help to compensate for late plantings of barley but are of no value in late sowings of oats. The use of certified seed will help in controlling loose smut in barley as this seed is only one crop away from the complicated hot water treatment which controls this disease. The recommended barley varieties include Kenbar, Dayton, and Kenate. The oat varieties include Dubois, Atlantic and Forkedeer.

Top Dressing Pastures During the Fall

If pastures haven't been top dressed this year, September is a good month for it. Run a soil test and give the soil the fertilizer it needs.

Our county pastures and meadows could profitably use several times as much fertilizer as they get. We know that fertilizer helps us make more money when used on corn and tobacco. Fertilizer can also help us make more money on pasture and meadow crops.

Our people up at the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station say that when properly used, fertilizer will bring us a return of 3 to 5 dollars for every dollar we put in fertilizer. We have made real money by using fertilizer on corn and tobacco.

It is time now for many Kentucky farmers to make additional money by using more fertilizer on meadow and pasture crops.

Fall is the Ideal Time to Spread Ground Limestone

It is a waste of good money to apply high priced fertilizer on soils that are greatly deficient in lime. These sour soils simply cannot use fertilizers effectively. It is much better first, to use proper amounts of lime in order to correct soil acidity, and then use fertilizer. If your soil is now acid, money invested in lime this fall will increase your profits on next years crops. Get a good soil test run and if you need more lime, apply it this fall and if feasible, work it into the soil by disking before bad weather. The necessary nitrogen, phosphate and potash can be added when the crop is planted. Limestone spread this fall while you can get over the land with spreading equipment, will have the winter months in which to correct the soil acidity. Don't neglect this opportunity to make more money by using ground limestone.

Selective Service

Question: I was classified 1-A and am now attending college. Will the fact that I am attending college change my classification?

Answer: Yes, as no classification is permanent. Any change is status such as attending college should be reported to your local board in order that you might be properly classified. Any registrant enrolled in a college or university will be considered for a classification of II-S, unless eligible for a lower classification, provided, his file is properly documented.

Question: In July 1963 I retired from the regular Army after serving on active duty for 20 years. My date of birth is December 14, 1922, do I have an obligation to register with the Selective Service System?

Answer: Members of a regular component of the Armed Forces are exempt from registration while on active duty and after they have been retired from active duty.

Question: I understand that Selective Service registrants are now being reached for Armed Forces Physical Examination at the age of approximately 22 years. I am now 19 and I do not believe that I will be found acceptable for military service. Can you forward me for physical examination now so that I will know whether I am going to be required to perform military service at a later date?

Answer: If you wish to volunteer for induction, you will be forwarded for physical examination immediately and if found acceptable will be forwarded for induction in the next call for your local board. If you are found unacceptable you will be classified in Class I-Y or Class IV-F, depending upon the extent of your disability. If you do not wish to volunteer for induction you must wait until you are reached in the normal manner for Armed Forces Physical Examination.

"New Beef Grading Machine just one way Harrison RECC works to improve Kentucky's agriculture," says

Frank G. Rankin, President: Bourbon Beef Show Assn.

"When the Co-ops gave the University of Kentucky Agriculture School this new Sonoray Beef Grading Machine they helped every Kentuckian—through research—to better meat products."

According to rural electric co-op members the word "cooperation" has many meanings. It means banding together to get electricity to run their homes and farms. It means providing power for schools, churches and hospitals used by all Kentuckians. It means supplying electric appliances to high schools . . . urban and rural. It means paying their fair share of their communities' tax loads. And it means "gifts" like the Sonoray machine which will help to develop not just more and better agricultural developments . . . but better food for everyone in Kentucky.

Clean-Up Message Seen Throughout State

KENTUCKY'S DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION is helping remind Kentuckians to keep Kentucky clean by arranging with billboard advertising firms to have these signs placed throughout the state. In the last two years approximately 250 of these have been placed. The advertising firms provide the space free as a public service. The Department buys the signs to place on the billboards.

Social Security

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

NOTE: Questions for this column should be directed to: "Questions", Social Security Administration District Office, 950 Winchester Road, Lexington, Kentucky.

QUESTION: Can I get an estimate of what my social security benefits would be before I retire?

ANSWER: If you give the social security office enough notice, they will be able to give you an estimate of your benefits before you retire. They would need your date of birth and social security number.

QUESTION: How long does it take to have my name changed on my social security records? I'm getting married.

ANSWER: If you take your social security card to your nearest social security office, they'll replace it with another card showing your new name in only a few minutes.

QUESTION: What papers should I bring when I come to the social security office to file?

ANSWER: You should bring your social security card, proof of age, and a record of your earnings for last year. If you were self-employed you would bring your Federal income tax return for last year.

Question: In the long run, will I get more money by waiting until I'm 65 to begin my social security?

Answer: On the average, people receive during their lifetime as much in reduced benefits as they would receive if they waited until age 65 to get the full benefit.
