Fire Destroys Home Sunday

Fire blamed on the explosion of a kerosene stove destroyed one home and damaged an adjacent one at Mungerville on the East Union Road about 10:20 p.m. Sunday.
Carlisle firemen answered the call to the home of Maurice Red Feeback where the fire started. The house was destroyed along with most of its contents. The adjacent home of Millard Feeback caught fire from flying sparks, but firemen succeeded in saving that structure. Damage at the at the Millard Feeback home was reported slight.
Both houses were of frame construction. The total loss was not reported.

"Get Facts About Overseeding" Wheat Growers Urged
Farmers were urged today to get all the facts about the results of overplanting their wheat allotment before they complete their 1964 seeding plans. H. S. Vice, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, said that apparently there is wide misunderstanding about certain provisions of the wheat program in years when marketing quotas are not in effect for the wheat crop. The ASCS County Office, therefore, is making a determined effort to get accurate information to all wheat farmers this fall, so that their 1964 seeding plans may be made with full knowledge of continuing program provisions.
According to the Chairman, the provision causing the most misunderstanding is the one under which the farm wheat allotment will be reduced in future years if the allotment is overplanted in 1964. The reduction in the future allotments results from the fact that the 1964 wheat acreage history for an overplanted farm will be established at a figure equal to the 1964 farm acreage allotment instead of the higher base acreage. (The base acreage is about 1½ times the farm allotment.) This provision is spelled out in the law; it has been in effect since the legislation was enacted in April 1958.
The provision concerns acreage allotments, and it would still apply to the operation of the wheat allotment program whether or not marketing quotas were in effect for the wheat crop. The only difference would be that, under a quota program, the producer with a wheat acreage larger than his allotment would have an opportunity to avoid the reduction in the wheat acreage history by storing the excess wheat or delivering it to the Secretary of Agriculture. This cannot be done when quotas are not in effect since no farm marketing excess is determined for any farm.
