Band Room Needed

The present Band room was designed as a storage facility and with one door beneath the stage. When it was converted to a band room another door was added by cutting through an eight inch wall. Although the Nicholas County Board of Education has done every practical thing to improve the room, such as adding acoustical tile to the ceiling and walls, fluorecent lighting, and attempting to ventilate the room through the ducts of the present heating system, still all of the following handicaps exist.

Consequently, ventilation is not adequate. There is no way to control the temperature of the room due to the absence of windows and radiators and the presence of exposed steam pipes that lead to other parts of the building. The high heat and humidity brought about by this condition is a handicap to the progress of the children that are in the room, and also has an adverse effect upon the playing response of the musical instruments. Lighting in much of the room is poor.

Recent growth of the department has made the room too small for the present organization. Further growth is handicapped by present facilities. Some children that are capable, cannot perform with the group because there just is not enough room to rehearse.

There is considerable interference to other classes in the building, because the rehearsal room is not removed from the classrooms.

The band needs enough space to store equipment, music, uniforms, instruments, and supplies where they will be available at the time of need. At present these items are scattered about the different schools of the county, and leads to an ineffective learning situation for the students.

To sum up the problem, a room that has adequate basic physical features of heating, lighting, floor space, location and storage is essential if the music program is to continue to grow. The advantages of having a rehearsal room large enough to accomodate all of the band members is obvious.

Schools and others.

The request of the Nicholas County Board of Education to the Fiscal Court of Nicholas county to ask its citizens if they want better school facilities, is a decision for the people to make.

If the people are in favor of providing better schools, then the board will proceed as rapidly as possible to improve the facilities of Nicholas County. If the people are satisfied, the schools will continue to operate as they presently are operating, operate double sessions, as some systems have been compelled to do, or try to rearrange the operation and find a better solution to the problem of operating in the present facilities.

Coney Island

Visitors to Coney Island, Cincinnati, during the 78th season, which began Saturday, April 25, will be taken back in history some 100 years when they ride the new "Coney Island and Lake Como Railroad."

They will board the train at a station reminiscent of a 19th Century railroad station, ride behind an engine modeled after a famous 1860 train, cross Lake Como on a specially constructed 400-foot trestle, go through tunnels into a "pioneer forest", where they will see Indians, wild animals, a flaming cabin and other special effects, and return to the station along the south shore of the lake.

The entire ride will cover nearly one mile of track and will, last more than seven minutes. There will be two trains, each transporting 70 passengers at a time on the exciting trips.

Coney will be open for three preview week-ends—Saturday and Sundays, April 25-26, May 2-3 and May 9-10. Fireworks displays will be featured each of the Saturday nights. Wally Johnson and his orchestra will play for dancing in Moonlite Gardens on April 25: Charlie Kehrer, May 2; and Jimmy James, May 9

Coney will begin daily operations on Saturday May 16, when Sunlite Pool and all other attractions will be in full swing until Labor Day, except for Mondays, when the resort is closed.
