Telephone Talk

CHARLES A. HARRIS Your Telephone Manager

WHAT HAS FIRST AID GOT TO DO WITH TELEPHONE SERVICE? Just this. As part of his training, your telephone installer-repairman receives first aid instruction.

John: What has two heads, four ears, two mouths, and is miles long?

Martha: A telephone conversation.

DID YOU KNOW there are 112 different sizes of telephone poles? The smallest is 16 feet, they go all the way up to 125 foot, 2 1/2 ton giants!

YOU'RE ALWAYS "ON THE SCENE" when you have extension phones in convenient places. In the kitchen where mom does the cooking. In the den where dad does the "after 5:00" work. In the bedroom for quick, easy answering during rest hours.

FAST TALK: Your voice travels through the air at about 1,100 feet a second, but by telephone it travels 186,300 miles a second. The speed of electricity! During a 3-minute Long Distance call you can say all the words in the average 2-page letter. If you talk slowly this would be about 450 words. If you're a fast talker the number would rise to about 750. There are 267 words in the Gettysburg address which is a rather round-about way of proving that you can say a lot of important things for very little money when you call Long Distance.
