Cowherd-Wesley Vows Said

The marriage of Miss Sara Ann Cowherd, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Colby N. Cowherd of Lexington, and Raymond J. Wesley Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Wesley of Carlisle, took place at 2 p. m. Saturday, May 23, at the Centenary Methodist Church. The Rev. Ralph Wesley, uncle of the groom, was the officiating minister, and the Rev. Rue Wesley, cousin of the groom, assisted in the ceremony.

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of delustered satin fashioned with a fitted bodice, neckline etched in Alencon lace, lace appliques on the bodice and skirt, and elbow-length sleeves. The skirt was bell-shaped in front with a back fullness from deep double pleats sweeping into a chapel train. Her veil fell from a double crown of Alencon lace with seed pearls and crystal drops. She carried a Bible topped with an orchid surrounded by white muma and stephanotis.

The maid of honor was the bride's sister, Miss Linda Cowherd. Her gown was of aqua silk organza with elbow-length sleeves and a scoop neckline. The cut-away skirt was floor length with self bows down the side. Her headdress was of aqua illusion topped with a large organdy bow of the same shade. She carried a crescent cascade of yellow roses and carnations.

The junior bridesmaid was Rachel Cowherd, sister of the bride. She wore a floor-length dress of white embroidered organdy over aqua taffeta, with short cap sleeves and scoop neckline. Her headdress was a large white velveteen bow. She carried flowers similar to those of the honor attendant.

The bridesmaids were Miss Bettie Jane Massie of Lexington, Miss Sandra Blackford of Louisville, Miss Lena Cowherd, cousin of the bride, of Campbellsville. They wore similar gowns and veils, and carried flowers similar to the honor attendant's.

Ralph E. Wesley served his brother as best man. Ushers included Jim Walker Bryant, cousin of the bride of Campbellsville; Bill Allison and John Pfeiffer, both of Louisville; Charles Skeen and Rodney Brookshire, both of Carlisle, and Giles Smith of Lexington. Richard Bacon, cousin of the groom, was ring bearer.

The church was decorated with candelabra, white gladioli and ivy.

A reception was held at the Imperial House. Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Roy Cantrill, Miss Macy Rae Bowling, Miss Jean Kabler, Miss Sue Shoopman, and Miss Joan Patrick. Miss Patsy Reynolds presided at the guest book.

The bride was graduated from the University of Kentucky with an A.B. in education. She was a member of the Student Education Association and Pi Beta Phi sorority.

Mr. Wesley was also graduated from the University of Kentucky with a degree in bacteriology. He will enter the University of Louisville Medical School this fall.

Where they return from a trip East, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley will make their home in Louisville.
