

PTA Convention

The Kentucky Congress of Parents and Teachers held its forty-fourth annual convention at the Phoenix Hotel in Louisville last week with Mrs. C. B. McClaren, Ashland, presiding. Mrs. Thomas Johnson, of the Seventh District of the host district, welcomed the delegates at the final which the four units in Nicholas county are represented. Mrs. 545 delegates registered for the three-day event. Mrs. Thomas Johnson, Carlisle, presided over the opening session on Tuesday evening. Mrs. Ralph Frost, Knoxville, Tennessee, vice-president of Region III of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, gave the keynote address. Speaking on obstacles to educational progress, Mrs. Frost said: "Chinese proverb: 'It is better to light candles than to curse darkness.' Various phases of PTA work were discussed at three breakfasts on Wednesday and Thursday morning, prior to the general sessions. An explanation of educational television was presented by Kenneth Lamb, director of the Kentucky Educational Television Commission. Mrs. Lamb said she is pleased to be accepted by all the people involved, from the superintendent to the parents and students. To get this acceptance, the public must be oriented to its advantages, uses, and the process involved in its effective presentation." Mrs. William Lett, of the Educational Council, presented the National Council, General House Branch of the Public Health Service in Atlanta, Georgia, told the delegates that young people are becoming infested with venereal disease at the rate of 1500 a day. "These are not all members of lower class families, but they are moving up in society as well as down in age."

Council Grants Wheat Program Five Permits Still Open

The city council Monday night issued five building permits as follows: Mrs. Blanche Cameron, 503 North Broadway to build a house and jacket fence; Horace Marshall, 306 Kentucky Heights, carpenter; William Davis to build brick veneer residence, 149 E. Lynn Addition, motion by Garrett, second by Cord; Guy Neal, 105 Chestnut, second by Cord; to erect house trailer on his lot, motion by Cord, second by Grimes.

The next step, the Chairman explained, is for growers who want to participate in the 1964 program to get in touch with the ASOS County Office and sign up as participants. The wheat program sign up will extend through May 15. After signing up, qualifying as a participant will mean: For loans or price support only. Staying within the farm's 1964 acreage allotment; if he wants certificates and diversion payment—staying within the wheat allotment on any other farm in which the wheat. Devoting to conserving use all the diverted land, in addition to maintaining the farm's normal acreage in conserving use. The minimum diversion amounts to 11.1 percent of the farm allotment; staying within the allotment for any other allotment crop on the farm.

Feed grains are not considered by participating in the voluntary wheat program. Police department collections totaled $461.87 as follows: meters $390.12, parking stickers $18.75, fines $39.00, old fines $15.00. On motion of Grimes, Mrs. Barrett was read and ordered paid on motion by Garrett, second by Cord. Council was adjourned to meet next Monday night, May 11, at 7:30 to consider federal housing.

the animals have been in their possession a while, they come to the conclusion that the "critter" is a nuisance and call the Conservation Officer to take it off their hands. That is if the critter lives and more often than not, it doesn't, it is pointed out.

Most wildlife pets are nuisances and are dangerous. Deer just can't be trusted. Rabbits and squirrels may inflict nasty bites or infected scratches and frequently do.

It is smarter to take advice from the Game Division of the Department and leave young wildlife where it is found, untouched. It is also suggested that dogs and cats be restricted during the spring season when deer does are heavy with fawns and when ground nesting birds are vulnerable to domestic predators.

Frankfort, May—in spite of the fact that it's illegal, each spring a number of people take home young squirrels, fawns, raccoons or other wildlife offspring they find in the woods or along highways, says the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. After covering his share of the export marketing allocation, the Commodities Credit Corporation, through ASOS county committees, will help producers to market their wheat certificates.

Payments covering acreage diversion and certificates will begin after July 1.
