Eda S. Taylor Day

by Mrs. Nelle Brayfield
In memory of Eda Snodgrass Taylor, former county sup't. of the County Board of Education has declared Friday, Nov. 27, 1964 as Eda S. Taylor Day.

Mrs. Taylor was born and reared in Harrison County having received her elementary education in said county. She entered Midway Grapeland School, from which she graduated in the year 1929. She began her teaching career in the Beaver Baptist community of Harrison County.

attended University evening classes and in the year of 1935 received her A. B. degree from Transylvania College. She was an active member of the Carlisle Christian Church having served as Supr. of the Jr. Dept. for over thirty years.

Frozen Tomatoes
There's something about a tomato that makes it hard to freeze successfully. Now liquid nitrogen-freezing can give consumers a first class frozen product.

Thanksgiving Day—1964

In the United States of America, November traditionally is the month of Thanksgiving. It is the time especially set aside to give thanks to our bountiful, loving, all-providing Father-God. It is the time set aside to look appreciatively at our many blessings. It is the time set aside to give thanks for all the things we usually take for granted.

Thanksgiving quickens a new spirit of appreciation within us. Thanksgiving creates joy. Thanksgiving builds faith. Thanksgiving for our blessings never fails to open the way for more good. Thanksgiving sets in motion an endless cycle of good that enriches us in mind and body.

The Best Prospects Are Newspaper Readers

The best prospects are people who are most likely to see and read newspaper advertisements. A man who reads newspapers will find and read advertisements of tires anywhere in the local newspaper. The woman who is likely to buy a new dress deliberately reads all dress shop ads in her newspaper.

When a reader is not a real prospect for a product his eye unconsciously passes over advertising of that product. Tests show that his eye do actually see all advertising in the newspaper. He stops and remembers reading only what he may be interested in.

From the Diary of a Country Editor

by Warren R. Fisher Jr.

I lay late and rise to find the sky grey and the air heavy and filled with misty rain. And I am fain to agree with the poet: "What is so rare as a day in June, though forsooth, the ballad-making might word not define the word 'rare' as do I in my dour humor. So, dragging a snail-like pace to my work, meeting in the way, Bryson, the rector, who does aver that it is beautiful day, with which I agree being too deep in the doldrums to deny it. Being come to the office, soon engaged in this, that and 'tother and the preparing to move in a new printing press, our old jobber being laid off years and like to give up the ghost at any moment. And the expense I rick me greatly and the Lord knows from whence will come the wherewithal to pay for this new machinery, so much printing goes to mail-order houses these days, and so invariably do merchants begin their economies by stopping their advertising, which is like closing their shops to save clerk hire, but, slack a couple of
