RELEASE DATE ADVANCED FOR GRAZING

Grazing of land diverted from wheat and feed grains in Nicholas County may start October 1 instead of November 1, according to Harvey Wagoner Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee. The earlier date has been set because of the serious drought.

This means that, starting October 1, county farmers who diverted such acreages under 1964 programs may use them for grazing without any downward adjustment in diversion program payments. The previous release date in the county was November 1. In cases where deductions have already been made from program payments, following County Committee approval for emergency grazing of such acreages, pro rata refunds —provided they are in excess of $3—will be made.

The Chairman explained that the relaxation of the program provision in the county follows the determination of the ASC State Committee—as specifically authorized by the Secretary of Agriculture—that the shortage of forage in the county is severe and that the action will be helpful in maintaining present livestock herds.

He emphasized that moving up the release date effects only grazing on the feed grain and wheat diverted acres. Prior approval still will be necessary in order to harvest hay from such acreage in order to graze or harvest acreage diverted under the Conservation Reserve Program. Likewise downward adjustments will continue to be made in program payments where feed grain or wheat diverted lands are harvested for hay or where Conservation Reserve land are grazed or harvested.

DEADLINE NEARS FOR 1965 WHEAT PROGRAM SIGNUP

Farmers who have not yet signed up to take part in the 1965 voluntary wheat program were reminded today that the deadline for doing so is Friday, October 2.

R. O. Wilson, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization & Conservation State Committee, stressed that signup is a necessary first step for wheat growers in order for benefits offered under the wheat program— including protection of their wheat income. Growers who sign up this fall may revise their planting intentions any time before the close of the feed grain signup next spring.

Farmers who sign up and then carry out provisions of the 1965 voluntary wheat program will be able to get diversion payments and marketing certificates in addition to the price-support loan on their wheat crop. Both certificates and diversion payments are higher in value for 1965 than they were in 1964.

The loans and certificates are available for meeting minimum provisions of the program; the diversion payments are available to those growers who also reduce their wheat acreage at least 10 percent and divert those acres to an approved conserving use.

Mr. Wilson pointed out that the 1965 voluntary wheat program has several provisions not offered under previous programs, such as the substitution of wheat for feed grains (including oats and rye) or feed grains for wheat by growers taking part in both programs, and the opportunity to overseed farm allotments without losing eligibility for loans or marketing certificates provided the excess is stored under bond.

Eligibility for any of the program benefits, however, depends first on signing up to take part, the Chairman said. The signup at ASCS County Offices extends through October 2.

Government Tobacco

acre farmer had no adjustments for underplanting or overplanting his allotment over the years— his allotment in 1963 was 3.3 acres. If he got the national average yield—2,231 pounds per acre — and received the average price of 59 cents per pound—the farmer received $4,351 for his 1963 crop.

Thus, under the Government's production and price stabilization program, the farmer who had 5 acres in 1940 received $646 for his crop— while in 1963—with 3.3 acres, he received $4,351 for his crop—five times as much.

Under legislation enacted by the Congress, farmers will decide for themselves whether these Government programs will be continued on the 1965 burley crop. If more than one-third of the growers voting oppose the programs, they will not be in effect.

There are two additional important factors relating to tobacco. First during the 1964 fiscal year, excise taxes on tobacco products—Federal, State and local—amounted to $3.3 billion—nearly 2½ times what the farmers received for the tobacco.

The total value of exports of tobacco leaf during the 1964 fiscal year was $421 million. About 90 percent of these exports were for dollars with no subsidy by the Government. This contributed to our balance of payments around the world.

and Irvine held a 7-6 lead at halftime.

The second half was mostly all Nicholas County. Adjustments on pass defense were made and the Blue Jackets were able to contain the Eagles on the ground. Midway in the third quarter a Garrett pass was intercepted by Junior Terrell who returned it 35-yds. to the ten yard line. A line buck to the six yard line by Terrell and an off tackle play by Terrell made the score 12-7 at the end of the third quarter.

In the fourth quarter a short punt by Irvine gave the ball to N.C.H.S. on the Eagles 35-yard line. Two end runs and a personal foul moved the ball to the 15 yard line where Don Robinson carried over for the touchdown. The extra point was again no good. A few minutes later with Irvine punting from its end zone, Dickie Smart returned the kick from 45-yards out to end the scoring for the night. The PAT was blocked. This was win number three for Gayle Bowen's charges in five games. Friday night the Jackets travel to Lancaster to meet a strong Garrard County team. Game time 8 p.m.

CHARLES A. HARRIS
Your Telephone Manager

BY NOW MOST OF US HAVE DISCOVERED HOW CONVENIENT IT IS TO SHOP BY PHONE. Just the other day we read about a man who not only believes in telephone shopping . . . he even does it by Long Distance! Seems he was from London and had seen a 17th century painting called "The Merry Lute Player" while he was visiting in New York. After returning home, he decided he wanted to buy it, but couldn't go back for the auction. So, he placed his bid by telephone, and the painting was shipped to him in a few weeks . . . for $600,000! Probably the moral of this story is . . . whether you're spending 60¢ or $600,000, shopping is a lot quicker and easier when you do it by telephone!

THESE DAYS WHEN INTERNATIONAL COMMUNICATIONS ARE SO IMPORTANT, Bell System people work with representatives of other nations and other communications systems. For instance, even though Paris, Geneva, Brussels, Rome, and Moscow are not in the Bell System, Bell engineers and technicians work in all of them to study and help solve the problems of international communications. One of the latest examples of this international cooperation is the deep-sea cable to be placed next year between St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands, and Venezuela. Another cable between St. Thomas and Florida will be in service by the end of this year. Together, the two cables will provide "all cable" circuits between the U. S. mainland and Venezuela. The St. Thomas-Venezuela cable will transmit voices in both directions, and will form part of a growing network of cable and radio relay systems in the South American and Caribbean area.

HAVE YOU EVER STOPPED TO THINK ABOUT THE WAY OUR COUNTRY'S GREAT EDUCATIONAL SYSTEM STARTED BACK IN THE DAYS OF THE ONE-ROOM SCHOOLHOUSE? There were benches for older children along three walls, and in the center sat the younger students. In cold weather there was a constant fire in the black, pot-bellied stove and a boy sat nearby with a bucket of water ready to put out stray sparks. One teacher taught all grades, and no two students had the same textbooks. Students made their own notebooks and wrote in them with quill pens and homemade ink that froze solid in the winter. Today, 3,000,000 students in 7,500 elementary and secondary schools, and thousands more in colleges, get some part of their education by television — the "living blackboard." Southern Bell is proud to be part of the organization that makes this great new educational medium possible in schools throughout the South.
