TOURING
SCENIC KENTUCKY
DOWNTOWN LOUISVILLE
SALUTES THE ARTS
By Marty Lovelace

In the heart of downtown Louisville a small plaza-park has been created called the Gutherie Green. It is dominated by a modernistic bronze figure called the Bride. It is the work of Kingston sculptor Reginald Butler.

During the past few years Louisville has experienced a dynamic renaissance in a wide range of cultural activities, so it is quite in keeping that the dedication of the Gutherie Green, September 20, is the beginning of a seven-day culture binge. The week of September 20-26 is designated "Downtown Salutes the Arts."

Thousands of works of a r t s, original paintings, sculpture, ceramics, photographs, wood carvings and handicrafts, all screened for artistic merit, will be displayed in stores, banks, restaurants, lobbies, shop windows and other places. For the entire week the city will be one vast art museum.

String quartets, folk singers, jazz combos and other musical groups will perform on the "Green" On the Wednesday evening a huge entertainment will be presented at Convention Center by various performing art groups including the Louisville Orchestra, Kentucky Opera Association, Civic Ballet and the Choral Union. There will be a small charge for this show; $1 $1.50 and $2. For tickets write to "Downtown Salutes the Arts," Box 2021, Louisville, Kentucky 40201.

Preliminary High School Plans Get Approval

At its regular meeting, Oct. 1, the Nicholas County Board of Education approved the preliminary drawings of the architect for the high school addition with a few recommended changes.

Robert Barlow, principal of Nicholas County High School, Hudson Shupp, industrial arts teacher and Raymond J. Wesley, Superintendent of Nicholas County Schools, met in conference with the architects and members of the Division of B u i l d i n g s and Grounds of the Department Education last week in Frankfort and discussed all features of the new addition and arrived at agreed standards and requirements of the new facilities from the view point of a principal, who uses the building every day, from view-point of a custodian who maintains the building and the viewpoint of the superintendent of schools who must coordinate the entire program.

A good educational program must have the kind of facilities needed for teachers to properly instruct in their subject fields and conduct their school activities.

It is the technical work of the architect to draw into the plans the facilities the teacher describes as to need and the arrangement for his best teaching conditions. The architect must take all of the ideas of the teachers and incorporate them into a single plan that is a workable unit.

The architect and the representatives of the Departments of education made technical recommendations, suggestions and gave advise as to how the above educational purposes could best be attained.

All of the areas of the new addition have been definitely located and allotted a definite area of space.

Nicholas Ties Garrard County

The Nicholas County Blue Jackets and the Garrard County Lions fought to a 7-7 tie at Lancaster Friday night in a C. K. C. battle. The game was played on a wet and muddy field. In the first quarter the Blue Jackets recovered a fumble on Garrard County's twenty-yard line and then moved the ball to the nine yard stripe. A backfield in motion penalty stopped this drive with Garrad taking over. The first quarter score ended 0-0.

The second quarter was played mostly deep in N.C. H. S. territory. The Lions moved the ball to the four yard stripe where they were stopped. Three times in a row the Blue Jackets defense was led by Co-Capt. Dickie Smart and tackle Harry Williams who tiffrew the Garrard backs for losses many times. The halftime score was 0-0.

The third quarter began with an exchange of punts by both teams N. C. H. S. taking over on the Garrad County 3½-yd. line, good runs by Terrell, Robinson and Smart moved the ball to the one yard line where on fourth down Ralph Frost scored on a quarter back sneak. Don Robinson ran for the extra point and Nicholas County lead 7-0.

The fourth quarter saw Nicholas in good command until 3:04 showed on the clock. A blocked punt gave Garrad the ball on NC's 20-yard line. On fourth down and ten, Scotty Simpson passed to Paul Rigsby for the touchdown. The conversion was good and the score was tied 7 to 7. With only one minute and ten seconds remaining Nicholas was unable to come up with a score.

This leaves the Jackets record at 3-2-1. Falmouth Red Devils will furnish the opposition Friday night in N. C. H. S. Homecoming game. Game time 8 o'clock.
