WHAT NOT TO DO!

The Nicholas County officials warn the public not to dump trash along county roads such as was done in this picture. Papers containing the names of Eastly Jolly, R. R. Jolly and Gary Jolly were found in this pile of rubbish on the Hickory Ridge Road along the fence of Bruce McKee. The men were given a chance to clean it up or pay fines of $30. It has been cleaned-up.

Dance Hall Permit Is Denied At Mackstown

Circuit Judge John P. Lair denied a dance hall permit to Mr. Leonard Snapp at Jacktown at a hearing held Dec. 15, 1965, on an appeal from County Judge Floyd Clark's County Court. Who also had denied the permit. The Circuit Judge entered the following judgment:

1. That the said Mack Ritchie had previously operated a dance hall in the present site and at the present time operates a restaurant and fishing lake in connection therewith.
2. That permit of the said Mack Ritchie to operate a dance hall was previously revoked some three years ago.
3. That the said Mack Ritchie had previously operated a dance hall in the present site and at the present time operates a restaurant and fishing lake in connection therewith.
4. That the said Mack Ritchie had previously operated a dance hall in the present site and at the present time operates a restaurant and fishing lake in connection therewith.
5. Since the revocation he has made an application for renewal of same which has been denied by the County Judge of Nicholas County, Kentucky.
6. That other applications to operate a dance hall on said premises have been denied.
7. That during the previous occupation of these premises as a dance hall, there occurred two homicides and various and sundry other law violations, some of which involved the previous proprietor, Mack Ritchie.
8. That based upon the testimony of officers of Carlisle, Kentucky, Kentucky.

Chasing County Fire Truck May Become Expensive

Chasing the county fire truck is probably considered fun, but according to Woodie Wilson, fire chief, it can become expensive fun.

Wilson and Jim Loford, also a volunteer fireman, informed this newspaper, that persons, mostly youngsters, were becoming so obnoxious with their cars that it had become necessary to take the license numbers. If a warning to those involved did not bring a halt to their antics, then a warrant would be processed for their arrest.

Fines for false alarm rang upward to $50 and jail terms if necessary. In an alarm sounded at approximately 7:30 Monday night, the county truck went to the home of Gile Guthrie on the Suggs Road—there was no fire. It was later learned the call came from a pay station at Blue Licks. In reporting a fire, give

Gayla Wilson Wins Essay Contest On Water Conservation

Gayla Wilson won first place in the Nicholas County 1965 Soil Conservation Essay contest entitled "Water-Its Effect on My Community". She will win a $25 U.S. Savings bond and airplane ride from Lexington to Carlisle, and return to get a bird's eye view of conservation on the land in Fayette, Bourbon and Nicholas Counties. The return will take her over Harrison and Scott Counties.

Gayla is a Senior at Nicholas County High School, and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Wilson, Route 1, Carlisle.

Ann Burden won second place of $10 and an airplane ride over Nicholas County. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Burden Route 2, Carlisle, and she is in the eighth grade at Carlisle Elementary School.

Robert "Rocky" Talbert won third place. He will get $7 and an airplane ride with the other two top county winners. He is a Senior at Nicholas County High School, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Talbert of Bill Cance, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey and an eighth grade student at Carlisle Elementary. He was fourth in the county and won $5 and a flight over Lexington.

Fifth place winner was Linda Tapp, Ninth Grade student, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Lee Tapp, Route 4, Carlisle. She will receive $3 and a flight over Lexington.

Inveterates will have more money to spend in 1966. I forecast a further upward in personal income to new high ground. An important influence in this respect is inventory accumulations from time to time to keep things rolling along. I do look for industrial production to edge to a new high. However, I fear the peak will come before midway as many suspect. On the other hand, the business climate in 1966 may well prove to be one of high-level stability rather than vigorous climb.

Business capital expenditures have been a key factor in prolonging the business boom, should remain a strong bolstering influence. However, I predict that they will not be as much in the way of support for the economy as in the past two years.

Business inventory accumulation, likewise a big factor in the boom, should also become a less vigorous expansionary force. Excess fears of inflationary price increases will encourage business to liquidate a healthy volume of inventories, but unless war threatens intensity, I

Babson Predicts Politicians May Think Twice Before Spending Funds

"Peace and Prosperity" should continue to be the dominant theme in 1966. President Johnson will push ahead in attempts to capitalize on the gains he has already made with his Great Society program. However, since 1965 will be a Congressional year, he may find the going less easy than it was this past year; the congressman and Senators who are up for re-election will likely think twice before being so generous with tax-payers' money.

1. of course, would like nothing better than to be completely optimistic in this forecast, but my more than 60 years of experience in predicting trends has taught me that unexpected events are most dangerous when conditions are brightest.

12. The increase in defense spending notwithstanding, I forecast that the economy will be a good one to match the fantastic achievements of the past four years. Threat of major labor strikes have been a very important role in stimulating inventory accumulations from time to time to keep things rolling along. I do look for industrial production to edge to a new high. However, I fear the peak will come before midway as many suspect. On the other hand, the business climate in 1966 may well prove to be one of high-level stability rather than vigorous climb.

13. Business capital expenditures have been a key factor in prolonging the business boom, should remain a strong bolstering influence. However, I predict that they will not be as much in the way of support for the economy as in the past two years.
