Shoplifters Convicted

More people were caught shoplifting in December than ever before in history according to an announcement made today by Ivan Jett, Executive Vice President of the Kentucky Retail Federation. Losses from this crime are costing consumers approximately $20 million annually in Kentucky. In fact, today shoplifting losses are larger than any other crime committed in the State.

According to the American Bankers Association, during the first six months of 1964 there were 296 successful bank hold-ups in the nation with total take of $1,605,000. Kentuckians are losing more from shoplifting than all of the bank hold-ups in the Nation.

This has become such a major problem that police departments are now photographing and fingerprinting convicted shoplifters and a circular distributed to police departments, sheriffs offices and retailers throughout the State. Law enforcement agencies, schools, newspapers and retailers are all cooperating together to reduce these losses.

Proposed Dam

The installation of the dam would bring the necessity for the relocation of about 4.5 miles of state highways and 3.8 miles of county roads, a mile of pipe-line, some electrical and power lines and five cemeteries, it was revealed.

The estimated total land acquisition necessary would be around 8,300 acres. That would result in the necessity to relocate from 175 to 200 families, according to the survey.

It was pointed out that the Hinkston Creek site was the only site that was deemed economically feasible, although 13 other sites had been investigated, including sites on Stoner Creek.

It was estimated that for every dollar spent in the establishment of the project there would be a return of $1.28.

Flood damage that would be prevented by the project would be around $279,000 annually, according to survey estimates.

The meeting was held at Cynthiana because Cynthiana is near the center of the area affected by the proposed project.

Other projects in the overall picture have already been launched--the Falmouth Reservoir and the Cave Run Reservoir, the later being in the advanced engineering and design state. Other projects are proposed for Salyersville and Wilders.

Farm Statistics Published

Nicholas County is located in the northeastern section of the Bluegrass region of Kentucky. It was organized in 1799 from territory of Bourbon and Mason Counties. It was the 42nd county formed and was named in honor of Colonel George Nicholas, a soldier in the Revolutionary War who later had a prominent part in the Convention which framed the first Constitution of Kentucky.

Nicholas is one of Kentucky's smaller counties, only 130,560 acres in land area. About 1/8 of the land in farms is harvested cropland. Pasture lands make up 3/4 of the farmland, and only 6,000 acres are woodland. The county is generally hilly with streams having rather narrow valleys. The soil is well adapted to farming, especially grazing purposes. Elevations range between 850 and 1,000 feet above sea level. Licking River and Hinkston Creek, with their tributaries, provide the county's natural water and drainage system.

Farming and stock raising are the county's major enterprises. The sale from all farm products in 1959 amounted to $4,444,545. This compares with $3,789,498 in 1954. All crops had small declines in 1959 compared with 1954, except forest and horticultural products which reached a new high of $66,573. All livestock and products increased 66 percent, led by the sale of cattle, calves and milk. In 1963 the county's Burley tobacco production was 7,234,000 pounds, the largest of record. Corn produced 174,000 bushels, wheat 11,200 bushels. During the five-year period, 1959-63, cattle and calve numbers on farms January 1 increased over 75 percent. The 1963 livestock inventory was cattle and calves 18,400, milk cows 2,850, sheep and lambs 7,600, and hogs and pigs 10,300 head.

Helping Young Drivers Stay Alive Aim of 4H Program

These members of the Nicholas County Automotive Steering Committee met last Thursday night to complete plans for getting the 4-H Automotive Program under way. Members of the committee include Minton Whitt, W. R. Buntin, Jr., R. L. Talbert (chairman) and Charles Mann.

Driving an automobile involves a lot more than just starting the motor, stepping on the gas, pointing the car down the road and hoping it stays between the ditches and doesn't hit anything in the process.

Designed as a county-wide effort, the automotive safety program will be available for 14 and 15 year olds. Civic leaders, business men, and other interested leaders will be heading up the program to teach the all important proper attitude and perspective needed before taking the wheel of an automobile. Respect for an automobile and the rights of other people are the prime objectives of the program.

Signup will begin in the near future and all parents should encourage their boys and girls to participate.

MAN ATTACKS POLICE CHIEF

George Bowles, 51, of the Myers Road, made threatening remarks toward Police Chief Eugene Kelley, Friday, Jan. 8, with a 4-pronged tire tool, as Kelly approached him on Broadway. A struggle ensued from Chestnut to Main Street, where Kelley subdued Bowles and placed him in jail.

Following examination of Bowles by a local doctor, he was sent to a Lexington hospital.

NCDC Directors Re-elected; Lot Prices To Remain Firm

Following the seating of some 60 persons Tuesday evening, Jan. 12, the annual meeting of the stockholders of Nicholas County Development Corporation was underway.

Those present selected as temporary chairman, Ralph Shearer, and as temporary secretary, Miss Betty Jean Vice of Maysville.

A slate consisting of the following named men were duly nominated and seconded: Charles M. Cox, Dorsey Watkins, Dan Hall, Carl Garrett, William B. Parker, and Dr. Wendall R. Kingsolver. Selection of the board of directors was by secret ballot--the three polling the largest number of votes being elected for a two year span, while the next two highest elected for a one year term.

After a count of votes by Miss Vice and Mr. Shearer--two year directors are: Mr. Parker, Mr. Watkins, Mr. Rich; one year: Mr. Cox and Mr. Garrett. There being no old business, the meeting was open to those present for new business.

W. R. Buntin Jr., recommended for consideration the limiting of the number of lots to be sold; it was also pointed out that topography, scenic beauty and congestion should be considered. In a show of hands, three voted for, ten against.

A motion by Dr. Kingsolver carried by a vote of 21-0, that prices of lots as set by a 15-man committee last summer be continued in effect, to be changed only by some unforseen event which would then require a vote of the stockholders to initiate a change.

Wool Deadline

Farmers have until the end of January to file applications for 1964 marketing year payments under the National Wool Act, R. O. Wilson, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee, reminded producers today. He emphasized that January 31, 1965, is the official final date for accepting payment applications in connection with the marketings of either wool or lambs during 1964. Since January 31 falls on a Sunday, the effective deadline will be February 1, 1965.

The Chairman urged that producers submit their applications on completed sales as soon as possible.

The 1964 marketing year under the wool program ends the last day of December 1964. Wool marketing years now coincide with the calendar year. The end-of-January 1965 deadline for filing 1964 applications is in line with normal program procedure of continuing to accept such applications for a month following the end of the marketing year.

Mr. Wilson said that the 1964 program payments -- which probably will begin in April -- will cover shorn wool and unshorn lambs marketed during the 1964 calendar year. Later marketings, or marketings which are not completed by the end of December 1964, will be eligible for payments for the 1965 marketing year, which will begin the first of the year.
