OUT OUR WAY

by Lottie O'Bannon

The second "kick-off" service at Wesley Chapel CME Church for Men's Day, July 25, sponsored by Mr. Arcelious Williams was a huge success Sunday, July 3. Rev. Higgins and chorus from Sharpsburg was here at 3:30.

Friends came to attend the service from many near by towns.

James Dean from Fort Meade, Md. was home for the holiday.

Word was received by Mrs. Clarine Livous of the death of George Johnsoy of Chicago, Wednesday night. He was a former resident of Carlisle.

PLENTIFUL FOODS FOR JULY

You'll find less meat than usual at your local markets this summer, but increased broiler production will help offset this reduced supply, according to Mrs. Letta Jasper, UK Extension marketing specialist. Plentiful eggs, milk products fish, fresh fruits and vegetables will be budget aids for the homemaker in July, she notes.

Beef supplies are expected to continue steady during July. Prices seem to have stabilized somewhat, but don't expect to find bargains on the popular lion steaks for outdoor grilling. Hamburger and other sausage products will be plentiful, however. Both pork and lamb supplies are smaller than a year ago, and prices on these two meats probably will not drop during the summer.

Summer broiler production is expected to increase up to five percent. Supplies of turkey meat will be slightly less to about the same as the average for the past five years. You probably will see slightly higher poultry prices this summer.

Peaches from Southern states and then from local sources will come to markets in July. Fresh plums from the West are now appearing and will continue plentiful for two or three months. A record supply of frozen orange juice concentrate also is on hand.

New crop apples, which are best for pies and sauce, are becoming more plentiful and will be available throughout July. You'll continue to find blueberries and raspberries for several more weeks; limited supplies of gooseberries and strawberries also will be found in July. Other fresh fruits available include Thompson seedless grapes, watermelons, cantaloupes, honeydew melons, bananas, oranges, cherries, apricots, and nectarines.

Vegetables on July markets will include sweet corn, beans, tomatoes, cooking greens, salad greens, cabbage, beets, cucumbers, radishes, and squash. Locally produced potatoes also should be marketed about mid-July.

SUPPLEMENT GRASS

Good grass is a benefit. Good dairymen take advantage of every acre pasture they have. Cows love grass and it stimulates milk flow. Yet, good dairymen know that grass is 85% water. As summer advances it turns brown, looses its palatability and is even less nutritious. Tests at the Purina Dairy Center proved that cows fed a grain supplement with grass produced up to 20% more milk, more than paying for the extra milking ration. They kept up in body condition, too, and held up better in production in following locations. Purina's new Checkerboard Dairy 16% pellet is ideal for summer feeding. New Purina Golden Bulky mixed with corn and Purina Dairy Supplement will also add dollars to your milk check

COUNCIL HIRES

Engineering Firm, Fiscal Agent

The Carlisle city council met Monday night with the following in attendance: Mayor Bill Power; City Clerk Mrs. Robert Harper, Councilmen, Dan Rich, Clarence Cord, Paul Garrett, Kash Grimes and Joe Crouch.

Minutes of the June 8 regular session and June 28 call meeting were read and approved.

COMPLAINTS

The complaint, of Miss Christine Clay, 492 E. Main Street was heard by council, it concerns a concrete apron between the sidewalk and road which she maintains has not been repaired following the installation of sewer lines last summer. On motion of Rich, second by Crouch, the matter was tabled until next meeting, but street committee was instructed to meet with Miss Cla y and seek a solution.

TO UPDATE WATER PLANT

A contract submitted by H.K. Bell Consulting Engineers, Lexington, was discussed by council--the contract covers cost estimates for several primary needs of the city--on motion of Rich, second by Garrett, council without a dissenting vote moved to employ the firm to update the water plant. Other possible needs are additional sewer lines and feasibility of annexing certain areas.

FISCAL AGENT HIRED

Wesley Rutledge of Stein Bros. & Boyce, Louisville bond firm, explained how his firm would act as fiscal agent for the city in the event the cost estimates by engineers proved feasible. Motion by Garrett, second Crouch, to adopt resolution, no dissenting votes on a roll call.

CIVIL RIGHTS COMPLIANCE

Mayor Power read a letter from the Housing and Home Finance Agency asking for a resolution of compliance that no discrimination is practiced by the city under the Civil Rights Act. Motion to adopt by Crouch, second by Grimes, carried.

BOND ISSUE ON NOV. BALLOT

The $176,000 state bond issue was again discussed and a second resolution signed by Mayor Power will be forwarded to the state. First endorsement of the issue was made May 11. The question will appear on the November ballot.

TAX RATE NOT SET

Council discussed the recent Court of Appeals ruling that all property be assessed at its fair market value. Consensus of opinion was that the rate would have to be set at a much lower figure than the present 75 cents per hundred dollars, possibly 20 to 30 cents or even a lower figure to produce the tax revenue upon which the city now operates.

Fiscal Court Makes Statement Concerning County Tax Rates

The Nicholas County Fiscal Court at its regular meeting on July 7 discussed the recent ruling the Court of Appeals of Kentucky, wherein it is provided that all property after January 1, 1966, shall be assessed at its fair market value (100%).

County Attorney Charles Cox, pointed out to the Court that under such a ruling, there was no reason for the taxpayers to have any fears that their taxes would be raised to any great extent because the Fiscal Court could simply reduce the tax rate from its present fifty cents downward to approximately 17 to 20 cents and still produce the same amount of tax revenue on which to

Carlisle School Adoance Approved

A wire last Thursday, from Sixth District Congressman John C. Watts, advises approval by Housing and Home Finance Agency of public works planning advance funds in the amount of $17,050, to the Nicholas County Board of Education. Funds are for the new elementary school at Carlisle.

Work Training Project Approved

The Community Action Council of the Nicholas County Development Association recently submitted a request to Acting Superintendent, James Colvin, for the approval of the Nicholas County Board of Education for a Work-Training Program under the Economic Opportunity Act.

The purpose of the Work Training Project in the Nicholas County Schools is to provide useful work experience opportunities for boys and girls between the ages 16 and 22 who need financial assistance in order to continue their high school education. It will also provide similar opportunities for eligible young people who have previously dropped out of school.

A survey has been made and found that the following position s will be open to students enrolled under the program: library aides, cafeteria helpers, custodian and maintenance helpers, teachers' aides, and secretarial assistants. Approximately 80 students can be admitted for employment in these positions. The program requires that a participating student must be enrolled in school, maintain a satisfactory scholastic standing, and while on work assignments observe rules of conduct as is set up for extracurricular activity sponsored by the school. Applicants under the program will be employed 10-15 hours per week for 26 weeks at $1.25 per hour during the regular school day, after school hours and/or on Saturdays.

A screening committee composed of persons certified by the Kentucky State Department of Education will determine the eligibility of students for the program. Selection of these applicants shall be administrated without regard to race, creed or sex.

At the regular meeting of the Nicholas County Board of Education on July 1, the proposal was presented by Mr. Colvin and approved. The Nicholas County Board of Education agreed to serve as sponsor of the project and named Bob Barlow, Principal of Nicholas County High School, project director.

An application for federal aid is now being prepared by Mr. Barlow and will be presented immediately to James Greenwalt, Kentucky Representative for the federal program, for approval.

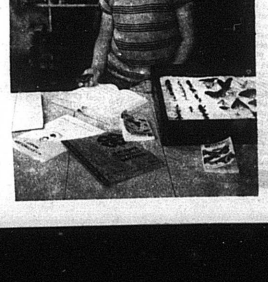
Fish Fry Plans

The Nicholas County Recreation Council will sponsor a Fish Fry Friday, July 16 at the old Carlisle football field.

Order--Lepidoptera...?



Strange name? Not to the 4-H members participating in the 4-H Entomology Project. Words like Lepidoptera, Hymenoptera, Diptera, Coleoptera, and Hemiptera are common language for members studying insects. These are the different orders that insects belong to.

It is thought that about one tenth of all insects may be helpful to man's economy. Assistance from this small group of beneficial insects could be necessary for our survival. Knowing our friends in the insect world can be important in controlling our enemies.

Randy Stevens is working on his Insect collection in the Unit I of the Entomology Project and assembling his project records for the project. "The thing that surprises me most is how many different kinds of insects there are", says Randy.

Beef Cattle Tour July 31

Edgar A. Darrell, President of the Nicholas County Livestock Improvement association, reported tentative plans for the Beef Cattle Tour to be held Saturday, July 31.
