ceive Government surplus commodities and it is not permissable to use free food, that the Government makes available, to serve paying guests.

The Board of Directors of the Johnson-Mathers, Inc., Home for the Elderly had a joint meeting with the Board of Trustees of the Nicholas County Hospital on Tuesday, March 16. Since the problems of the operation of both of these facilities are very similar, both boards feel that joint meetings should be held on some regular basis throughout the year, so they can share their mutual problems. With the hospital taking care of the critically ill, and the new home taking care of those who are both elderly and convalescing, these two facilities provide a much needed answer to insure the health of our citizens.

94 Attend Scout Program

Ninety-four (94) Nicholas County Girl Scouts, Leaders and parents attended a World Fellowship program in the University of Kentucky Coliseum, Saturday, March 20. More than 6,000 were in attendance at the meeting.

Sponsored by the Wilderness Road Girl Scout Council, the event was held to pay tribute to Juliette Gordon Low, who organized America's first Girl Scout Troop in Savannah Georgia, 53 years ago.

Welcomes were given be Senior Scouts in five languages, and a number of International students were honor guests.

Four girls from Cadette Troop 168, Carlisle acted as ushers. They were: Karlyn Coatney, Debbie Vice, Jane Talbert, and Dana Coatney.

Leah McDaniel, Cynthiana, spoke on "What Scouting Means to Me," and Patti Hale, a Juliette Low Friendship Fund representative to Columbia in 1964, told of her experiences in South Africa.

Bith Leffler, Senior Girl Scout from Troop 151 Lexington, acted as mistress of ceremonies.

Flags representing each of the nations belonging to the World Association of Girl Scouts and Girl Guides formed a background for the program. Senior Troop 170 of Carlisle contributed to this part of the program by making a Venezuelian flag.

Funds for the Juliette Low World Fellowship Fund were presented by a Brownie Scout from each neighborhood. Linda Clinkenbeard, of Carlisle Troop 439 represented Neighborhood 23 which is composed of Carlisle and Cynthiana.

Following the meeting at the Coliseum the Brownie, Junior, and Cadette troops of Carlisle were the guests of the Girl Scout Troops of Crestwood Christian Church, for lunch.

TOURING SCENIC KENTUCKY

On U.S. 25, the Southern Scenic Route, 2 miles north of London, is Levi Jackson Wilderness Road State Park. Within this 815 acres occurred the bloodiest Indian massacre in Kentucky.

On October 3, 1786, members of the McNitt Company were celebrating their approach to the land of plenty. Failing to post guards, they were attacked by Indians. A party from Crab Orchard found their twenty-four bodies and buried them on the banks of the Little Laurel River. The site is now called the Defeated Camp. Also on the Little Laurel River is McHargue's Mill, which has the world's largest collection of millstones.

The park has a true mountain life museum complete with a group of farm buildings depicting the country life of a century ago. There is a manor house, with a dog trot, a kitchen house and smoke house, a loom house, shop, and a two-pen barn. The buildings house many interesting household furnishings, many of which were donated by families of the neighboring communities. There is a collection of shotguns, early indian artifacts, and farm tools.

The park offers a modern swimming pool and bath house, accommodations for camping and cooking, and an extensive picnicing area. There is a playground for the children, and one may even enjoy a horseback ride, a carriage ride or perhaps a hike across part of Boone's Trace.

Vacation time will soon roll around so keep Levi Jackson State Park in mind. It is an inspiring place for the entire family to visit.

Pre School Registration

All school children who will enter school in Nicholas County for the first time in the first grade at the beginning of the 1965-66 school term which will begin in August of 1965 will register during the school hours during the week of March 29, through April 2. Registration centers will be at the Moorefield School, the Carlisle School, the Nicholas County Elementary School located at Headquarters or at the office of the County School Superintendent in the Piper building at the west limits of Carlisle.

It is of great importance that the children be registered because State supplied textbooks are requisitioned on the basis of the number of children enrolled. If a child is not registered he may not receive books. If at all possible, each parent is urged to bring the child's birth certificate at the time of registration.
