Surf. Wesley Denies Charges; Ouster Decision Is Delayed

By Nicholas County Attorney Charles Cox, that a $688 check issued by the Nicholas County Board of Education in 1956 was for anything other than health services which the court provided students and teachers during the 1955-56 school year.

Attorney Cox claimed the check was part of a three-way deal between the school system, the fiscal court and a private landowner to pay for fence along a road the school system wanted the court to build.

He has also filed suit against the superintendent used an automobile owned by the board for personal or private transportation.

He refused his four opponents on the board access to the board's offices for a special meeting because he had not received proper notification of the meeting.

In a student discipline incident, or when he ruled in another student discipline case, making examinations be given to two boys who allegedly quit school and making examination admissions after they were caught gambling on the school grounds.
