NATIONAL CHILD SAFETY WEEK

During the September 8-15 period, there will be a nationwide observation which deserves the whole-hearted cooperation of everyone in this country. It is National Child Safety Week, and its purpose is to instill in the minds of our school children sound and proven safety practices.

CAUTIONS WHEN PASSING SCHOOL AND PLAYGROUNDS

The toll of injuries and deaths that accidents take on our youngsters is appalling. It is true, of course, that children are naturally adventurous. They look to try new and fascinating things—some of which are filled with hazards. Being immature, they are frequently unaware of the dangers which news items which tell of children running out from between park cars into traffic-heavy streets and there being run down attest.

From the Diary of a Country Editor

And so we said goodbye, my young daughter, far wiser than we, who had mapped out too ambitious a journey for our little, begging to stay on. But away, down the Suncoquama Valley to Harpers, the capital, and on eastward to Lancaster county, said to be the richest county in the world, and I had been told as beautiful as the Bluegrass Region, cleanly kept, well-lying, well cared for farms there, with a turquoise stone house here and there and a roll of hillback that to higher ridges—somehow like parts of Central Kentucky, but the charm of our region—at least for me—is not there.
