"Made it so much easier to keep clean too!"
"Flameless electric heating has turned our home into a blue-chip investment!"

The Overhill home where Mr. and Mrs. John H. Morgan recently installed flameless electric heating.

"By converting to electric heating," says John H. Morgan of Overton, "we've made our home total-electric—to keep its value right up there through the years ahead. Yet the cost is surprisingly modest—especially with KU's low rates for all-electric living—and more than worth it!"
Adds Mrs. Morgan, "Electric heating makes our home perfect to last plain live in too. It's more comfortable than we even hoped it would be, with the warmth controlled individually in each room. And, of course, no matter how you use it—as we do in many wonderful ways—flameless electricity is always so clean."
Remodeling or building? Take your own important step to total-electric living—with modern flameless electric heating.
