Family & Home

Paul I. Hoffmann, County Agent, Thomas S. Davis, Jr., Associate County Agent, H. H. Wilson, Home Agent

Outlook for 1966

The average U.S. families had more money to spend in 1965 and, in many cases, spent this extra money for "necessaries" goods and services that have been considered luxuries only a few years ago. In 1965, wholesale prices rose 2.3% and prices paid by consumers increased 1.7%. Income after taxes was up 6.7%.

As incomes increase, consumers continue to spend heavily on housing to satisfy needs that are as much social as physical. Mortgage rates have declined but there is an increase in rates for property insurance and the cost of home maintenance and repairs. The cost of utilities and fuel will increase slightly this year.

The rise in food prices topped that other important group in the family budget this year, with the exception of medical care. Retail food prices are expected to increase in 1966, but not as much as 1965. There will be more convenience foods on the market during the coming year. Meat prices are expected to average higher in 1966 because of further reduction in meat supplies.

Relentless Attack

"Today, our priceless heritage of freedom is under relentless attack both at home and abroad." The words are those of J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, taken from an address recently made on his being awarded the Grand Cross of the Scottish Rite. He went on to detail where attacks of various kinds are in being—in southeast Asia, in Europe and the Near East, Central and South America. In all these vast areas, it has been necessary to use American power in efforts to stem the communist tide.

And here at home the communist problem is not, Mr. Hoover obviously believes, a small one. "Communism," he says, "is a vast international conspiracy which today dominates one-third of the earth's people. Here, in our own country, that conspiracy is represented by the Communist party, U.S.A., a bold and defiant band of anti-American traitors whose operations are directed and controlled by the Kremlin in Moscow."

Mr. Hoover flatly states that communism is a legitimate political organization. As he sees it, the party constitutes a foreign force on our shores. He cites, in evidence, such communist objectives as withdrawal from South Vietnam, noninterference with communist terrorists in Santo Domingo, and appeasement of the whole Marxist world.

In this country, Mr. Hoover reports, the communists are especially eager to win recruits among American youth and are confident they can do so. The party has placed heavy emphasis on campus speech programs in which skilled speakers woo young people. He gives several examples. In one case, the speaker told his young audience the Berlin Wall had been built to hold back undesirables from the West who were infiltrating East Germany. Mr. Hoover adds that "it is one of the glaring contradictions of our day that the same Communist spokesmen who are so glibbing in their appearance before groups of college students immediately lose their voices when placed under oath in a court of law or before a committee of Congress. They always take refuge behind the fifth amendment. Our moral atmosphere would be better if they knew as much about the Ten Commandments. . . ."

The substance of his address is what we must choose between law and anarchy, freedom and chaos. He finds danger signs that this country is being swept by an epidemic of spiritual malnutrition. The massive increase in crime is certainly an indication of that. He sees grave weaknesses in the operation of the courts—"Too many of our judges are technicalities rather than guides of innocence."

He says, "I am suggested in these words: 'Faith is our mainstay in the ideological struggle now raging between the camps of democracy and communism and human freedom. And faith remains our strongest bulwark against the criminal and subversive enemies who would destroy our priceless heritage of liberty and justice for all. But faith without work will be of no avail—there must be unity of purpose. . . ."

"America will continue to progress in dignity and freedom so long as our people cherish liberty and justice and truth and honor God."

'Agree or Not, I say what I think . . .'

By S. C. Van Curen

Kentucky in those 12 years. For instance, Wetherby's 1954-55 estimated General Fund budget was $21.0 million and for 1955-56 it was $84 million.

The difference between the withholding tax went into effect in the first year and was picked up a windfall of $7 million.

Breathitt's General Fund for the year 1965-66 is estimated at approximately $330 to $340 million for 66-67 and $350 to $365 in 67-68.

These are the figures he gave at the pre-legislative conference.

But the dramatic change comes in the large amount of federal participating funds for states.

Wetherby's federal funds were almost limited to highways, 50-50 matching, and economic security.

Breathitt's 64-65 school fund was $120.5 million and it was $130 million for 65-66. It will grow for the next two years.

MFF pay $500 the first two years and expects to increase it about $400 in 1964, beginning teachers were almost limited to degree were paid $2,900. In the fall of 1965 they started at $4,500, an increase of $1,600.

Weatherby passed the Minimum Foundation program in the last month of the 1964 session, and he found an additional $6 million for the schools.

Gov. A. B. Chandler then financed MFF in 1956. Wetherby's budget 12 contained $34.8 million for each of his last two years for state aid to schools.

Take a look at higher education. The University and Colleges were budgeted at $34.8 million in each of the last two years under Weatherby, but that was $44.8 in 64-65, and $48.3 in 65-66 under Breathitt and it will be larger for the next two years.

The general road fund under Wetherby had a budget of $61 million and $62 million. The last two years under Breathitt it was $103 and $107 million, and will be larger this time.

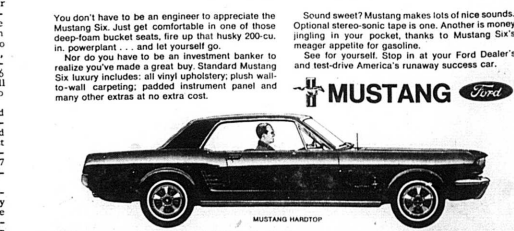

In the higher 12 years everything about Kentucky has grown rapidly. The sales tax has been added, more jobs created in industry, more automobiles, and higher salaries for all of the people.

Primary and secondary schools now get more state aid funds than Wetherby had in his entire general fund budgets. Try that on for size. And he's the man who
