HOMEMAKERS

Music Camp July 15-16 At North Central 4-H

Religious music will be the theme of this year's Homemaker's Music Camp, to be held at the North Central 4-H Club Camp near Carlisle, Friday and Saturday, July 15-16.

Although the camp will introduce music for Kentucky Homemakers Chorus presentation at the 1967 state Homemakers meeting, membership in a county Homemakers chorus is not a requirement for camp attendance. In fact, the camp is open to any one interested in music and singing, whether or not she is a Homemaker Club member, emphasizes Mrs. Margie Wilson, County Extension Agent.

The summer music camp is the nucleus around which the annual state Chorus program is built and, at camp, a suggested music topic to be developed in Homemakers Club programs in the counties also is introduced.

"We try to choose a lesson topic each that will interest homemakers throughout the state and which they can not only study but participate in through singing, playing instruments or listening," according to Mrs. Jean Marie Chrisman, Fayette county, who is director of the State Chorus and will be in charge of the camp.

The Homemakers music program stresses the formation of county choruses for those who wish to sing in organized groups and encourages these county groups to join together in the State Chorus, she says. However, club and community singing, as well as music understanding and appreciation and the importance of volunteer leadership in county music programs, also are emphasized.

Anyone interested in music is urged to attend the state camp, July 15-16. The program will include introduction of new music, instruction on proper use of the voice, rehearsal sections both for different vocal section and for the entire group, talent and stunt time. This year's camp will end on Saturday night rather than Sunday morning as in previous years. Those planning to attend from Nicholas County are: Mrs. J.M. Pitman, county director; Mrs. Henry Fightmaster, accompanist; Mrs. Omer Berry, Mrs. Lucille Buntin, Mrs. John Clinkenbeard, Mrs. John Smith, Mrs. Dudley Link, Mrs. Herman Vice, Mrs. Harvey Wilson, Mrs. Boone Clark, Mrs. Fred Wheeley, Mrs. Emmett Darrell, and Mrs. Margie H. Wilson, County Extension Agent.

Futher information on the camp is available from the Extension agent in home economics in your county.

JULY 9, 1966

Memorable Day at Blue Licks

By Mrs. J.A. Standiford.

A day will be long remembered by about 150 descendants and guests was spent at Blue Licks Saturday, to honor the memory of one of Nicholas counties most distinguished early residents, Major George Michael Bedinger.

The program was held in the Blue Licks Union Church that the heirs of Major Bedinger were mostly responsible for ur having. This program began at approximately 11 a.m. with a processional. The Flag bearer was Phillip Bedinger, who represented the 11th. generation, he was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bedinger of Sioux City, Iowa. When the Flag appeared in the audiance arose, then sang one verse of our National Anthem and repeated the Pledge to the Flag of the United States of America. The Flag was followed by the speakers: Prof. Charles G. Talbert, Col. Clifford C. Gregg, Walter A. Wentworth, Mrs. Ashley Logan, Mrs. H.N. Davis, Mrs. Raymond Wesley and Mrs. J.A. Standiford.

The invocation was given by Rev. S.B. Bedinger of Princeton, Ky.

Mrs. Logan greeted the descendants and guests and welcomed them, then presented Walter A. Wentworth, who presided. Mr. Wentworth is the Chairman of the State Historical Marker Committee, he introduced and presented the speakers.

The dedicatory address was given by Prof. Charles G. Talbert, who spoke on the life and activities of Major Bedinger. This was followed by an address by Col. Clifford C. Gregg, a lineal descendant, who is the retired former director of The National History Museum of Chicago and presently The President General of The Huguenot Society. Mrs. Standiford made remarks relative to her memories of having lived in Maj. Bedingers last home.

Mrs. H. N. Davis related "Bedinger Memories". Mrs. James A. Orr told of her recent vacation in the east and observing a marker dedicated to Maj. Bedinger. Quite a few descendants were recognized as were D.A.R, and S.A.R. representatives, including Roy Shannon of Lexington.

When the program was concluded in the church, the assembly retired to the marker site, where Phillip Bedinger unveiled his ancestors marker, the marker was read by Mr. Wentworth who also made commendable comments. At some distance Miss Faye McClanahan sounded "Taps". The Benediction was given by Rev. Bedinger. Mrs. Sarah Coward Wesley was pianist.

All who possibly could, reassembled in the Blue Lick State Park Shelter House for lunch and a social hour, where guest books were signed and many pleasant memories exchanged. Several descendants visited the homesite and grave site of Maj. Bedinger. We understand several relatives were prevented from sharing in this dedication by the prevailing Air Service Strike. A congratulatory telegram was read from Senator John Sherman Cooper.

Water, Wind, Lightning Take Toll

WRONG SIDE!

The East Union Road near Carlisle is submerged as the town branches overflow their banks in Sunday afternoon's storm. See page two for another picture of storm damage.

Tobacco along creeks, trees uprooted and limbs blown off, and eroded soil from cultivated fields show some of the damage from the three inches of rain and strong winds which hit the area early Sunday night. Hail also caused some loss in various locations in the county. An estimated 100 acres of tobacco in Nicholas County were covered with water from overflowing creeks. Many trees were blown down and limbs blown off trees in Carlisle and over the County. Farmers are warned of the danger of cattle eating wilted wild cherry leaves.

The main loss, according to the Soil Conservation service and the Extension Office, was from severe soil erosion. Cultivated fields, especially those on hill sides, lost much top soil. This is often overlooked when surveying damage. This valuable top soil cannot be replaced. Fields which had diversion channels above them or crops which had been contoured were not as severely injured as were those not receiving these practices. It is too early to accurately determine the total loss as much of the tobacco will grow out if rains come to wash the top soil off the leaves.

GOOD LUCK

Sometimes power company's do have luck in an electrical storm.

The local Kentucky Utilities company could have had things much rougher than they were in Sunday afternoon's storm when a tree felled by the wind, blew across the old 33,000 volt line. The lucky part, the line was dead before the storm struck-early Sunday morning crews had switched over to the company's new 69,000 volt line from Millersburg into the new sub-station at Carlisle.

Harrison County RECC Hard Hit

About 6:00 p.m. on Sunday evening, July 10, a severe electrical and wind storm moved into the area served by the Harrison County Rural Electric affecting power lines in every county served by the Co-op. Trees and tree limbs were blown across the lines, and lightning hit lines, splitting poles, breaking insulators and damaging transformers.

The crews began working to restore service at 6:30 p.m. Every available lineman and truck was sent to make repairs. They worked through Sunday night and restored service on all lines by 6:00 a.m. on Monday, July 11; however, service was not restored to each individual member until noon Monday as in some instances the members were not able to notify the office of an outage for some time. It appeared that Nicholas County was the hardest hit by the storm.

W.S. Fenn said "We cannot remember a storm of this type being so wide spread. Usually an electrical and wind storm will confine itself to maybe two or three counties, but this one hit all eight counties in the Co-op area with severity at practically the same time."

KU Damage

An electrical storm which struck this area about 5:30 p.m. Sunday did extensive damage throughout the county. Excessive rain in a short period of time caused creeks to flood low lying areas. Rain gauges around the area registered 3 plus inches.

Two homes on the East Union Road, near Carlisle, were flooded and several others in the vicinity threatened. Those severely damaged were the home of Estill Hunt and Ira Gilley.

The area around the new sewer treatment plant was also underwater, although no damage was done the plant as all doors are of water-tight construction.

Equipment in the city barn was flooded before it could be removed by Chief of Police Eugene Kelley and Mayor Bill Power. It was reported no damage was done to gas meters, boots, etc. stored there.

Morris Whiteley, local manager of the Kentucky Utilities reported the utility company's damage was slight considering the severity of the storm.

Damage as reported by Mr. Whiteley was one transformer knocked out at Bethel, Sharpsburg or East Union. Major damage was caused by tree limbs and falling trees which pulled service lines down.

The usual charge of $1.50 for a three year vaccination under these Health Department sponsored clinics will be in effect.

LODGE FISH FRY

Doughterty Lodge 65 will hold its annual fish fry Friday, July 15 at 6:30 p.m. at the city lake.

In case of rain it will be held at the lodge dining hall.

Virginia Beach Band Trip

By Carroll Hall

After a brief group meeting to review directions and schedule, the band members loaded their instruments, equipment, uniforms and luggage on the two chartered Greyhound busses and the trip was underway on Sunday, June 25 at 5 p.m.

Brief rest stops were taken in Charleston, W. Va. and Roanoke, Va. All 56 children and five chaperones were excited as they crossed the last mountain and approached level terrain nearing the coast. After stopping for breakfast at a Holiday Inn the group traveled on for Virginia Beach, arriving at the motel at 11 a.m. Monday, June 13.

Upon getting room assignments and lunch at a nearby cafeteria band members were free to enjoy the beach for the afternoon. Only a few chose to get caught up on their sleep lost from
