MERCURY VAPOURS

by Warren R. Fisher

Chronology has a big sounding definition and therein hangs the meat of this article. For a hot Saturday in June, it being the 25th thereof, we were present for no momentous event.

Starting with our acquisition of a 19,000 BTU air conditioner which in its present state was of no value to us on the back shop floor, we proceeded upon another of those "60-to-yourself" projects.

Needless to say we put in one of the hottest Saturday mornings we have experienced in a long time.

As was achieved by noon and the cooling benefits are well worth the expenditure of energy and that great stuff that makes the world go 'round. Event number two came with the launching of "The Toby-Ann" or use green money, a coupon patch.

KEEP IT SAFE AND SOUND

Twenty & Forty-Five Years Ago

Public display of the Declaration of Independence with songs and restraint.

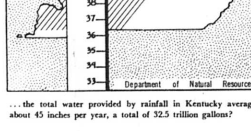

INDEPENDENCE DAY 1966

One hundred and ninety years ago, the Liberty bell rang out to proclaim the Declaration of Independence to the American colonists, marking an entirely new concept in the development of human progress.

The immortal words of Thomas Jefferson asserted that "all men are created equal" and that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights . . . Life, Liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

Public display accidents now account for one-third of all major injuries from fireworks. Accidents on the highways continue to take their increasing deadly toll, but the fatality rate in relation to the highway mileage is decreasing.

Let us take a minute to pause and reflect on the basic precepts which are as true today as they were that memorable day in Philadelphia. Make this safe and sane holiday, so we may live to enjoy the guarantees of freedom, and retain them in our minds, hearts and deeds.

...the total water provided by rainfall in Kentucky averages 45 total water per year, a total of 32.5 million gallons.
