

Better Trout Fishing In 67

Mr. Fisherman, get ready for better trout fishing in 1967. An opportunity to fill your creel with rainbow trout begins with the week of March 13 when ten streams on the Daniel Boone National Forest will be stocked with the elusive rainbow.

The stocking to take place at regular intervals throughout the spring and summer, is a cooperative project of the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, and the U.S. Forest Service.

More than 33,000 trout, provided from federal hatcheries by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, will be released in the National Forest streams.

According to Robert F. Collins, Winchester, Daniel Boone National Forest Supervisor, the 1967 trout stocking program will be much larger than in previous years. Stocking will be carried out at scheduled intervals to ensure good fishing for all who have access to all forest streams located in six eastern Kentucky counties. "A firm stocking schedule has been set up," said Collins, "to allow fisherman, in and out of state, to plan their trips with greater assurance of finding well-stocked streams and good fishing."

Stocking schedule is as follows:

Rowan County - Cranes Creek, monthly, March through May, first stocking the week of March 20.

Wolfe County - Middle Fork of Red River, monthly, March through May, first stocking the week of March 20.

Clinton County - Cranes Creek, April through July, first stocking the week of March 20.
