WARREN R. FISHER Editor-Publisher (Mrs.) Katharine T. Fisher Associate Editor

Sawdust Diet Dangerous

Special correspondent Philip W. McKinsey of The Christian Science Monitor, writing from Washington, says, "The Administration is moving ever closer to severing the last ties between money and the dwindling United States economy..."

Farm & Home

Horserack riding at 13 State Parks--Equestrian, young and old, can find mounts to their liking at a dozen Kentucky State vacation parks which maintain stables, steeds and riding trails for the public's enjoyment.

Economy Is Not a Bad Word

All over the nation, savings are struggling with the problem of inflation. It is not a bad word, it is a word that ought to be used more often in our everyday transactions. For most people, the savings account is the only place where their money is safe.

Twenty & Forty-Five Years Ago

Thursday, July 17, 1947 The body of Lloyd J. George, the first Nicholas County soldier to give credit to the county in World War II, will be returned to his native Carlisle, Ky., for burial in the military cemetery at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. George.

MERCURY VAPOURS

by Warren R. Fisher We were amused the other day upon reading a comment by a winner of a National Award for the best column in the country...

July 7, 1967 The Mercury is an excellent money order for the money. It is a money order that you can use for anything you want.

Local Business Good Advertising Key To Every New Market

By E. T. TALBERT, University of Missouri created Twigg. Promotion and advertising did not create Twigg. It was the result of a man who saw a need and filled it.

Buyer, Beware!

Wise and careful buyers who make their purchases through the business channels will be able to avoid many of the pitfalls of the marketplace.

Urges Use of Safety Glass

People who walk into glass doors, panels and fish enclosures are urged to use safety glass to protect themselves from injury.

Wish I'd Said That

Several things that people wish they had said during the Fourth of July celebration in the nation's capital.

Washington Report

From Your Congressman JOHN C. WATTS tradition, elaborate fireworks were scheduled for the night of the Fourth of July celebration in the nation's capital.
