leak around them and this condition should likewise be investigated. The emergency waiting room facilities at the hospital do not appear to be adequate, particularly in winter weather and the Grand Jury recommends that the board of trustees consider some other space for a waiting room for emergency patients; and the possibility of installing some type of storm door arrangement if it is not in conflict with the State Fire Marshall's Office.

The Grand Jury wishes to express its appreciation to the Circuit Judge, John P. Lair for his instructions to them of their duties and to acknowledge the splendid manner in which he operates his court.

This Grand Jury Report is being held to a minimum out of respect for Judge Lair and the Grand Jury also expresses their desire that he have a speedy recovery from his recent illness.

Salvation Army Drive Begun

The Salvation Army campaign for funds is being conducted in Carlisle and Nicholas County during March. It was announced by the Chairman, Ralph Shearer, volunteer workers are making calls in their various neighborhoods and turning the money in to the treasurer, Charles K. Watkins, at the Deposit Bank. A part of all money raised is retained in Nicholas County to help with the need in the community. The committee representing the Salvation Army Nicholas County are: Ralph Shearer, chairman; Charles K. Watkins, treasurer; David Zachary; Morris Whitey; James Gill and James Carter.

Several families in Nicholas County have received aid through this program. Several families were helped with groceries and coal. Mr. Shearer said, shoes were purchased for school children. These children are without this help, gasoline was purchased for them. This enables these people to be on their feet at the county.

Your contributions help the Salvation Army and their committee to render services to those in need of the material things of life. Most of the necessary funds are continued on page 9

Plenty Of Ballots To Count

The outcome of the acreage-pounding referendum will be known sometime Wednesday. Shown are office workers and officials at the local ANSC office about 9:30 Wednesday morning as the count here got underway. Kentuckians approved the new program last year by 73.3 per cent, while Tennessee farmers defeated the proposal by more than 86 per cent. A two-thirds majority of growers voting is needed for adoption of acreage-pounding.

Approximately 2000 votes were cast in Nicholas County in the Burley Tobacco Referendum last week. This was the largest number of votes cast in any referendum since the tobacco program has been in operation.

Lovelil Holtz, County Referendum Chairman, said the record vote was due to the splendid cooperation of the banks, Chamber of Commerce, all local business people, civic clubs, community workers, and individuals.

"Regardless of the outcome, we are proud of the cooperation shown in Nicholas County," said Mr. Holtz.

March 17 Deadline in '67 Feed Grain Program

Friday, March 17, is the last day growers may file applications to take part in the 1967 feed grain program. Harvey Wagener, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation District Committee, points out that only growers who participate in the program will be eligible for price supports on their 1967 crops of corn and grain sorghums. At last year, the support is made available through loans, purchases, and price support payments. Lack on small farms (farms with bases of 25 acres or less) and some farms with larger bases where no feed grain will be planted, no diversion payment is available under the 1967 feed grain program.
