A $10 Haircut!

The National Observer starts off a featured article on inflation with "Haircut" for $10 million. It's a week. One of "inflation-proof" goods. An average-quality man's suit, $250. The Observer points out that such prices appear fantastic, but they are what we may expect to pay within a few years if the present course of inflation and the depreciation of the dollar continues unabated.

When more inflation is the steady advance of inflation is the apparent indifference of the people--at least in Kentucky talking. They're talking in Kentucky talking. They're talking in Kentucky talking. They're talking in Kentucky talking.

Skidding Toward Bankruptcy

What is the answer to rising welfare costs? That is a question that every voter, as well as an official at every level of government, should be asking. It is difficult to find the answer. It is difficult to find the answer. It is difficult to find the answer.

The Public's Air

(The Cynthiana Democrat) Fayette County Judge Joe Johnson has become the center of a storm in Cynthiana, trying to fathom a way to clean up the air. He has brought about his Court of Inquiry into alleged bribery and zoning officials.

My Home Town

(McLean County News) Fayette County News and publisher of the Andalusia Star recently editorialized in clipping about the civic pride that every citizen of a town should feel.

Diesels Maintain First Place

Last year, the nation's railroads spent $220 million on diesel locomotives. The total output for motive power since World War II has been a steady increase. The railroads are investing heavily in new equipment and facilities since 1945. The result has been a steady increase in diesel locomotives.

Mercury Vapours

Some folks have the pocket I carry the present one in. The better or what have you, has lost its charm and neither brings me good fishing luck nor did it ward off any aches and pains.

Twenty & Forty-Five Years Ago

Thursday, August 19, 1948
With an estimated one-week supply of water in the area, the water supply was being cut off. The water supply was being cut off. The water supply was being cut off.

Farm & Home

What has enabled us in the last few years, Medicare has become a major part of the welfare picture--1946 was the year when Medicare was first introduced. It was the year when Medicare was first introduced.

Agree Or Not, I Say What I Think

By S. C. Van Caron
Gov. Louie B. Nunn, one of the nation's youngest governors, has made a bold move at the Miami convention to attain the Republican Party for the importance of compromise in the entire spectrum of our population.

Sod Webworm Damage Control May Be Needed

It's a trap this year, whether the sod webworms multiply later, but it is doing much damage, but control measures may be needed. The sod webworm usually is not as big a pest as it is in the summer dry spells or droughts.
