It's A Woman's World

Our Trip To Frankfort
By KAREN STEVENSON

It was a most interesting trip to Frankfort, Tenn. We went to thank Mr. Wilson and the Board of Education for letting us go, and the three bus drivers who were so nice to take us.

"The first place we went to was the Old Capitol. It was interesting. Downstairs we saw a picture of the Governor, Mrs. Foster's picture, and many other things which were very interesting."

Central Ky. Mental Health To Give Program March 11

The multiple problems and joys of the Central Kentucky Mental Health Association program, "Mental Health: A Time of Crisis," will be held Monday, March 11, 7:30 p.m., at the University of Kentucky Medical Center auditorium, Lexington. Nicholas County residents are invited to attend for free program.

A film, produced by National Educational Television and featuring Matt Fierle, Ph. D., lecturer in child psychiatry at the University of Chicago, will provide the background for a discussion by a panel of professionals who specialize in work with teenagers.

The film depicts an episode in which a panel of professionals give their views on a crisis situation and how the behavior of the adult influences the child's emotional and intellectual development.

Dr. Fierle provides a background on the role of the parent, the school, and the community in the child's life.

The program is free and open to all. Tickets are available for $2.00. For more information, contact the Central Kentucky Mental Health Association, 1000 University Avenue, Lexington, Ky. 40506.
