Kentucky Writers' Guild, Inc. Announces Contest Decisions

The Kentucky Writers' Guild, Inc. chartered by the state to "promote, publish and preserve the work of Kentucky writers" sponsors the Annual Kentucky Literary Awards contest in both prose and poetry. The results of this years contest are at last available. Judges report extreme difficulty in making decisions because of the quality of the works.

In poetry, the 1st place award of $50.00 was given to Violet Givens, the 2nd place award of $25.00 to Quentin Howard, and 3rd place of $15.00 to Rufus Reed. Honorable Mention awards went to Edwina Pollard, Lillie Chaffin, Thelma Scott Kiser, E. M. Wheeler and Lois Owens.

In prose, 1st place was awarded to Jim Wayne Miller, 2nd place to Sam Draper, and 3rd place to Lillie Chaffin. Prize money in prose equals that of the poetry awards. Honorable mention in prose were awarded to Dorothy Litersky, Earl Hughes, Dorothy McCubbins, Zella Jarrett and Lois Solvin.

The Kentucky Literary Award Contest, an annual event, will be opened for competition again in January 1969.

An anthology of the 1968 entries for the Literary awards is planned by The Kentucky Writers' Guild, Inc. to be published by Harvest Press. Inquiries may be addressed to P. O. Box 46-154 Cincinnati, Ohio 45246. David Brandenburg, Pres. Kentucky Writers' Guild Inc.

Irish Potato Trial Results

LEXINGTON, KY.--Results of trials on five Irish potato varieties were reported this week by Dr. Dean E. Knavel, U. K. Ag Experiment Station horticulturist.

The varieties were grown at Lexington from June 6 to Sept. 5 this year, he says.

Kennebec and Pungo were the highest yielding varieties, with 254 and 238 hundredweight an acre respectively. Lenape, a new variety released in 1968 was the lowest-yielder, 139 hundredweight an acre.

(The yields in bushels are figured this: Kennebec, with 254 units of 100 pounds, yielded 25,400 pounds an acre; if the average bushel weighs 60 pounds, the yield in bushels for Kennebec was about 423 bushels an acre.

Though Lenape had the lowest yield per acre, it had the highest specific gravity, which makes it excellent for chipping and french-frying, Dr. Knavel noted.
