Agree Or Not,

I Say What I Think

By S. C. Van Curon

FRANKFORT, Ky.--The Kentucky Council on Public Higher Education has decided to come to grips with the question of how far public funds should be used in supporting out of state students.

The decision presents an opportunity to supply some interesting background data. Out of state enrollment at the tax-supported institutions of higher learning hasn't quite doubled percentage-wise in the 11 years, since 1958, but total enrollment has tripled since 1958.

The 1968 Legislature took a hard-nosed approach to the problem with the idea of reducing the number by hiking tuition fees sharply. The Council on Public Higher Education persuaded the legislature to soften the blow and increase out of state tuition by $160. At Murray, Western, Eastern, Morehead and Kentucky State the out of state fee is $540 a year and it is $480 at the University of Kentucky.

The schools have been more selective this year in admitting out of state students and the hike in fees has helped to reduce the percentage. Morehead achieved the biggest drop going from 26% per cent in 1967 to 19% per cent in the fall of 1968.

Conversely, Eastern had a different peculiar years. It saw the out of state percentage was 21.3% dipped to 19% in 1967 and swarted to 21% per cent in 1968.

In the spring of 1968 Dr. Robert Martin, president of Eastern, said there were only 167 instate applications from high school graduates in Jones parish, 140% uphill from 1967, but the same period for out of state students, there were 457 in 1968 and only 317 for 1967. "You never know how many will actually enroll," he said.

At the main campuses of the six state supported senior colleges and the 15 centers of the University of Kentucky Community College system, the total fall enrollment increased from 53,544 in 1967 to 59,981 in 1968. At the same time the overall percentage of out of state students dropped from the per cent in 1967 to 19% in 1968.

The community colleges have a strong diluting effect upon the percentage of out of state students, as the six main campuses the percentage of out of state was 24.5 for the fall of 1968.

The Council has named a committee of four of its members, one voting and three non voting to work with the Council's professional staff to develop recommendations for the Council and possibly for the 1970 General Assembly.

A comparison of out of state enrollment in the years 1958 and 1968 shows that per cent against 24.5 for 1968 while total enrollment more than tripled.

By schools, here are the comparative figures in percentages for 1958 and 1968: Kentucky State 5.2% 22.3%; Murray 16.2% 26.9; Morehead 16.2% 26.9; University of Kentucky, 14.4% and Western, 6.13%.

These figures indicate that Morehead and Murray both burgeoned by out of state enrollment and probably had been encouraged by the administrations of those two institutions. Now they have begun to cut back and some of this may have been brought on by the 1968 General Assembly but all schools had begun to cut by agreement on the Council. Morehead cut from 33.3 per cent in 1966 to 26% in 1967 and Murray cut from 35.3 per cent in 1966 to 31.5 in 1967.

It is no secret in Kentucky that students from out of state can attend Kentucky colleges cheaper than they can in some of their home states.

Neither can much argument be advanced that Morehead and Murray didn't encourage out of state students from

The Nicholas Co. Youth Fair has been a local tradition for more than 30 years. This year the fair is scheduled for August 7,8 and 9, but the chances for holding it this year are becoming slimmer every day. The fair has always been a project of the Utopia Club and has received most of its financial support from local businesses. This year the Utopia Club has not been able to organize enough interested people to make any plans at all for the fair. A community effort is necessary now if the fair is to become a reality this year. Interest in the fair has been dropping for the past few years, but this could easily be revived by trying some new ideas and getting new people involved in planning and setting up the fair. Other nearby counties have tremendously successful fairs that are a treat to attend. We need to analyze the problems we're having with our fair, improve the affair and build an interest in having an excellent fair in this county.
