ASC Committee Nominations Are Sought By Local Office

ASC community committees should always be the farmers who can best represent their neighbors, according to Harvey Wagner, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee. Slates of nominees for membership on ASC community committees soon will be established at the ASC county office. The community committee elections will be held the third week in September.

"The committee system is the backbone of the farm program," Mr. Wagner declared. "Its responsibilities include the conservation of natural resources on farms, the stabilization of agricultural commodities, and price-support activities which protect and improve farm income. We need the best possible cross-section of farmers to insure effective administration of the various programs."

In Nicholas County, Mr. Wagner explained, approximately 300 farmers took part last year in one of more programs administered by the ASC committee. Funds disbursed under the committee's supervision amounted to $12,000. Last year, also 3,000 acres of farmland were improved under the Agricultural Conservation Program cost-sharing arrangement. The total investment in conservation was about 176,000, with about half coming from the participating farmer and the balance from ACP.

Council Tentatively Accepts $167,840 Water Project Bids

In a special session Tuesday night, City Council tentatively accepted the lowest bids on the water plant improvement project which had been advertised Tuesday afternoon.

The bids accepted are as follows: Contract VII—Water Works Improvements—Clark, Wood and Associates Contractors of Louisville—$72,000; Contract VIII and IX—Caldwell Well Tank Inc. of Louisville—$95,840.

Council met in regular session Monday night.

$5,000 was transferred from the revenue fund to the city operating account on the recommendation of Dr. Robert Perdue, who was unable to attend the preliminary bid opening on August 15.

The money was needed to pay the bid by the City.

Member school bonds, which had been issued from the State, were unavailable for this school year. Consequently other safety procedures are being used to insure the safety of the children. It was decided that a letter-writing campaign to North and Broadway each morning and afternoon to help children catch the influenza which appears to be the most dangerous.
