MERCURY VAPOURS

Our editor, Warren Fisher, is in the cardiac unit at Good Samaritan Hospital. However, all tests so far have proven nothing. Thus, we can only hope that what Mr. Fisher will be taking with the Mercury Vapours soon will give him the expected usual vim and vigor so soon.

Twenty & Forty Years Ago

January 17, 1929
In an attempt to check the spread of influenza in Nicholas County, the County Board of Health issued an order Monday afternoon closing all schools, churches, and public places, and also warning against assembling of any kind in public places. The order was in effect for a period of two weeks. Judge A.M.J. Cochran Monday afternoon issued an injunction against the Carlisle Bottling Works to prevent them from manufacturing beer under the name of "Pepsi Cola".

Thomas J. Jones, well-known farmer of the Hopkins neighborhood, bagged his subscription to the Mercury every week for the past several years. He received his first issue of the paper from the office of the old Nicholas County in January 1867.

Local Business
By S. & T. Shattner
In planning for the future, the retailer must anticipate what the consumer will want. The demand is the heaviest. For instance, I am deeply moved to see the interest, the people of this area have taken to protect religious freedom. I wish there was some way to get the message out to an estimated 10 to 15 million Americans who are not doing so.

Increased spending is expected in 1969. The retail trade is expected to see a sharp increase in the demand for new clothing, for both women and men. The cause of major fashion changes and the development of new styles is expected to be the result of increased spending in the retail trade. The retail trade is expected to see a sharp increase in the demand for new clothing, for both women and men.

Agree Or Not, Agree Or Not,

I Say What I Think
