cooking, and eating? Is there enough storage space?

"Another point to consider is the re-sale of the house," notes the Housing Agent. "You wouldn't want to be stuck with a 'white elephant' if you decided later to move. Among the factors that make a home easier to re-sell are three bedrooms, two bathrooms and a family room."

How to finance your home is as important a decision as what home to buy. Be sure to ask the mortgage company of other lender about the interest rate, the number of years you have to repay the loan, the date of monthly payments, the grace period, penalties for failure to make payments, and other costs you will have.

"Remember, your monthly cost for owning the home will be the total of interest and principal payments, taxes, insurance and upkeep of the house. Upkeep will be more for older homes. Be sure you check into the reputation of the architect, builder, realtor and lender."

Stop by your county Extension for free publications on many aspects of home buying and home ownership. Your area Extension agents will also be happy to advise you on individual housing problems.
