Nursing Home News

By Virginia S. Donovan

Kindness in words creates confidence. Kindness in thinking creates profoundness. Kindness in giving creates love.-----Lao-Tse.

Members of the Carlisle United Methodist Church had charge of the worship service Monday afternoon, Mrs. Andrew Grey gave the devotional, Mrs. "Ted" Allison was at the piano and Mrs. Lester Snapp led the singing. Rev. Norsworthy, the pastor, was unable to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Livingood, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Woodward of Williamstown were Sunday guests of George Harney who has returned from the University Hospital and is now residing at the nursing home.

Mrs. Cora Gaunce spent several days at the nursing home, and is now in "nursing care."

Miss Hazel Roberts and Edward Smart of Lexington, visited Hazel's aunt, Mrs. Lydia Meyers.

Mrs. Edna Lang of Raceland visited her sister, Mrs. Harold Rice and family.

Julius Toph is a new helper. Julius is a native of Canada but has been in Kentucky about four months.

Jim Lane of Sharpsburg visited his aunt, Mrs. Irene Boyd.

Avery Barbee and Sam Grey visited Mr. J. P. Barbee recently.

Mr. Harvey Allison had the same Paris visitors and his son-in-law, Ray Jolly came over from Robertson Co.

Lois Hancock of Paris visited her grandmother, Mrs. L.G. Tedder.

The Armistice Day favors were made by Mrs. Margaret Simons' 4-H Club. Each favor had the name of one of the members. How nice it is for the young to remember the old.

Mrs. Cecil Sapp of Waycross, Ga. visited her mother Mrs. Stella Watkins. Sidney brought her mother a lot of pecans and as Mrs. Watkins said a lot of "joy" too. One day they drove down to Ludlow and spent the day with Lois. They really had fun "Miss"-ing.

The youngest resident of the home, Robert Perry, is now in the University Hospital in Lexington.

Mrs. Ellen Kenny's niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Kindred of Mt. Sterling visited her recently.

One advantage of being married is that you will never make a fool of yourself without ever finding it out.

Mrs. Barbee and Mrs. Grey who work at Blue Grass Industries visited the home each week day at noon. They come to see their father, Mr. Ward Hammond, Mrs. Barbee's father-in-law. J.P. Barbee and aunt, Mrs. Maggie Hammonds. "Girls", when do you have time to eat or do you?

G.W. Barbee of West Union visited his brother, J.P. Barbee Sunday. Then his daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Mitchell visited him.

Mrs. Nannie Crouch was so proud of her new planter, a duck containing artifical flowers. She said her granddaughter, Dolly of Lexington brought it to her.

George Soaby has been in the local hospital several days.

Mrs. Ida Smith was visited Friday by Mrs. Jack Marshall of Cynthiana. They had lunch in the dining room. It was too bad that Mrs. Smith had to be taken to the hospital Monday.

Most of today's news is too true to be good.

Mrs. Roscoe Morris, on e of the good cooks, is at the hospital with a broken shoulder. She says her advice to everyone is to never try to hold a car back while the engine is running even if the hood is still up. We do hope she will be back in the kitchen soon, but she may not be able to make that good pull candy for our Christmas treats.

Landen Stewart syas he can't keep house at his home at Millersburg any more, but he has many family pictures at the nursing home and he enjoys looking at them and showing them to his friends.

A man seldom makes the same mistake twice. Generally it's three times or more.

Mr. and Mrs. William Miller of Ashland visited Mr. and Mrs. Jody Watkins and other relatives of Millersburg Sunday.

Roger and Mary Sledd of Lexington visited the home one day recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Soesl of Lexington visited Mrs. Soesl's mother, Mrs. Nannie Crouch.

Danny Hankins goes to school at M.S.U. but works at the home on weekends.

The Cowen Christian Church sent Mr. Ward Hammonds and J. P. Barbee each a half of bushl of fruit. Mr. Barbee and Mr. Hammonds divided with their friends.

Church Pastor

Rev. Don Mosley is pastor of the Carlisle Wesleyan Church and not Rev. Melvin Hunt as reported in the news article concerning a Nov. 14 thru 23 revival in last weeks paper.

December 1 Is Deadline For Conservation Essays

Deadline for principals in Kentucky to submit their school's winning entry in the annual Conservation Essay contest is Monday, Dec. 1.

The contest, open to all students in Kentucky schools, is sponsored by The Courier-Journal, The Louisville Times and WHAS, Inc., Subject of this year's contest is "Water Conservation - Its Effect on My Community."

Principals should send their school's top essay to the office of the school system superintendent where it will be judged and forwarded for district judging. Soil and Water Conservation offices in each county will conduct the district judging.

District winners will receive a $25 U.S. Savings Bond and a plaque. District runners-up and school winners will receive a certificate.

The best essay in each of Kentucky's 121 Soil and Water Conservation districts will be judged for state awards, which are a $500 U.S. Savings Bond for first place, $200 Savings Bond for second, and a $100 Savings Bond for third.

The three state winners, their parents and teacher, will be honored guests at the annual Farm Awards Luncheon in Louisville, Feb. 21, where the top prizes will be awarded.

Mrs. Walter Shepherd Honored By Community Woman's Club

Mrs. Walter Shepherd, second grade teacher at the Carlisle Elementary School, was honored by the Community Woman's Club at their Nov. 10 meeting, entitled "A Tribute to Education."

Mrs. Shepherd was selected for her outstanding contribution to Education due to her ability and winning personality to recognize and bring out the potential of each child and to guide him to the best of his ability.

Mrs. Shepherd, wife of Walter Shepherd, former Nicholas County Judge, is a graduate of Georgetown College with a MA degree in Education. She has taught elementary school for 28 years and currently is Director of Head Start.

Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd have two sons, Jimmy Shepherd, County Attorney, Carrollton, and Dr. Jack Shepherd, Georgetown. Mrs. Shepherd is a member of the Methodist Church.

Also in recognition of American Education Week Nov. 9-15, club members who are teachers and former teachers were presented certificates for their contribution to education.

Miss Fleet Allison and Mrs. Doris Whaley were in charge of the program.

Mrs. James T. Clay, Wendell, N.C. Speaks At Garden Club Meet Monday

The Carlisle Garden Club met Monday, Nov. 17 in the Methodist Church Annex for the final meeting of the year.

Mrs. William Layson, president, presided over the business session, in which a number of important issues were discussed and decided upon.

The club will follow the usual custom of making Christmas wreaths for the Library and will furnish other various arrangements to be on display during the first week in December.

Mrs. Warner Davis resigned as vice president and Mrs. Layson appointed Mrs. Taylor Snelling to fill the unexpired term.

Mrs. Layson presented Mrs. James T. Clay, Wendell, N.C., program leader. Mrs. Clay delighted the club both with her talk and displays of talent in making arrangements.

These represented the sentimental Holidays of the year, beginning with "Thanksgiving."

The next was "The Advent Season." This is for those who prefer the Christmas, stating Christmas Eve.

The others were suitable for various times during the holidays.

Mrs. Clay closed her program by reading a poem entitled "The Christ Child Comes to Earth," with appropriate arrangement.

Mrs. Layson presided over the business session of the meeting, and announced the following standing Mess Masters for the year: Mrs. Ben Capek, Mrs. Mary Ann Mathers, Mrs. Jesse Mathers, Mrs. Virginia Jones, Mrs. Mary Shepherd, Mrs. Joseph Hamilton, Mrs. James Lewis, Mrs. Leslie Robbins.
