An Enlarged View

A BROWN RECLUSE SPIDER was found by Mrs. Garrett Gray, Monday, on a pillow case she had taken in from her bedroom. Mrs. Gray said she would give the spider to Dr. W. R. King, who was going to preserve it. In taking the spider's picture, it was left in the glass case with rubber bands while a panoramic sheet of film was exposed. Followed development, blow-up was made and then an additional exposure when the half-tone negative was processed. Although the spider was not too large, she was used to emphasize its danger to humans. The spider is usually found in dark areas.

Proclaims Arthritis Month Citizen Support Is Sought

Mayor William Power today proclaimed the month of Sept. to be Arthritis Month and urged that all citizens of Nicholas County support the Kentucky Chapter of the Arthritis Foundation in its drive.

In his proclamation, Mayor Power noted that he was asking Nicholas County wide support of the drive because the Kentucky Chapter of the Arthritis Foundation conducts a multifaceted program to help bring better care to the arthritis sufferers in this area. Many of these arthritis victims are totally or partially disabled.

"Local businesses lose a great deal of productivity due to absenteeism because of arthritis. The 1968 Strike Out campaign is a major effort to make progress in the vital area of public health."
