Nursing Home News

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hogg of Richmond, VA and two children, Jana Bert and Albert Jr. visited their mother and grandparents, Mrs. Mary Hogg, on Sunday. They were on their way to a nursing home in Florida to visit Mrs. Hogg's father, "Granny" knew all of them and was so glad to see her two grandchildren, whom she had not seen for several years.

Work is prayer if we do it as God would have it done.

Mrs. Bertha Schoensigel's brother, George Wilcoxen, and nephew, George Wilcoxen Jr. came up from Mason County, Thursday and took "Miss Bertha" to Maysville to the park where there was a family reunion. She said she never knew they had so many relatives and there was so much food. They took pictures and just ate and ate!

Miss Corlda Bell's niece, Marjorie Brayfield of Lexington, was down to see her.

The good home fupers at the home don't have time to tell about their joys and sorrows. Clara Ruth Craig just told us about her new grandson, Craig Bailly, of Bourbon County. He was born June 24.

Sherman Earlywine who has a farm out near Headquarters, is specializing in cucumbers. Said he planted about three hills. We saw a sample of them. They are very unique. At first one has to look closely, for they are shaped just like and the size of grub worms. He may not be able to sell these at Southern States!

Bobby Medley's baby, Robert Jr. has seven teeth.

Have you seen Lizzie Ratliff's pretty blue car? It's a beauty and Lizzie really goes whizzing along in it.

Mrs. Vivian Scott, who is known as the flower champion of the county, has some pretty flowers in her room. These are out of her own garden. Mrs. Lida Mae Wade picked them and brought them in to her.

A.J. King was visited Friday by Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Stokley of Lexington.

Uncle Tom Jackson said he was looking for work. Would be willing to do work of any kind, like digging post holes and such. Said he never did worry about the pay, that was what was wrong with the world now, that people wanted pay and didn't want to do much work.

Harvey Ellison has been a cripple since he was 12 years old. He said then he stumped his toe, blood poison set in and a neighbor who they called Uncle Jim Johnson of Lewis County came and split his toe and the poison settled in his hip which was also split open. Uncle Jim had some "homemade" doctors from Vanceburg to help him with this, but he never walked for two years. He lived with his uncle, Eligh Bryant, used crutches and worked right on chopping wood, hauling lumber and railroad ties and made a living for seven or eight. He said he married when he was 22 and that was entirely too young.

"Miss Minnie" Mitchell was sporting a pretty new pink duster.

What may appear to be a cry of rebellion, may be youth's desire to serve.

Mrs. Alma Cloyd looks real dignified as she walks up the hall in her white uniform. She is substituting for nurse Jones while she is away.

The medicare patient woke up following surgery to find a placecard on his incision reading, "This is a Federal project, showing your tax dollar at work."

At this writing we are happy to say no one is in the hospital.

Rev. James Norsworthy, pastor of the Carlisle United Methodist Church, had charge of the Monday afternoon worship service. Mrs. Ted Allison was at the piano, and Mrs. Sterling Blake was the song leader. Hymns were sung and Rev. Norsworthy read from Romans and Peter. He talked about seeing all burdens on the Lord when no one else could help us, 13 were present including Roy Snapp, who seemed to enjoy the service. When it was over, he said it was the first service he ever attended that a collection wasn't taken.

Terri Shearer of Louisville, who is visiting her grandmother, enjoys gathering and delivering flowers to the residents.

Trouble may come, but God's strength is sure.
