Wool Sale

and present the necessary sales receipts and other records.

Mr. Wagener reminded producers that sales documents must show all details of the sale when completed during the current marketing year—including pasting title to the buyer. There must also be a record showing either actual delivery or transfer of control of the wool or mohair to the buyer.

The buyer's total purchase price must be clearly stated, also.

Proof of ownership for at least 30 days is an important requirement, the ASC Committee chairman said.

To be eligible for payments, producers must own for at least 30 days the livestock from which wool or mohair was shorn and the unborn lambs on which they apply for payment. Records must be presented which clearly establish compliance with the 30-day ownership requirement.

Requests for 1970 marketing year payments under the National Wool Act may be filed with the Nicholas County ASCS Office, as soon as the sales documents are available, but should be filed no later than Jan. 31, 1971, to ensure early payment.

Some 56,576 veterans of the 3,180,457 veterans receiving disability compensation or pension from the Veterans Administration are from Kentucky.

Of these 33,204 veterans are receiving compensation payments for service-connected disabilities and 23,372 for permanent and total disability not related to military service, according to J.G. Ratliff who is Director of the VA Regional Office in Louisville. Statistics were made available today based on June 1970 reports.

Compensation is paid on veterans who suffered disability as a result of service and is paid to veterans of other income. Pensions are paid to disabled and needy veterans without consideration of disability while in service, but is based on the veteran's income.

Nationally, 2,091,466 veterans receive payments for injuries or illnesses relating to their military service.

Of the 168,772 Vietnam era veterans receiving compensation or pension, 2,057 are from Kentucky, and 13,345 of the 244,850 Korean Conflict veterans are from this state.

Most veterans receiving compensation and pension are from World War II. These number 1,786, 638 nationally, of which 38,672 are from Kentucky.

Because World War I veterans are now reaching an average age of 76, most who receive payments do so because they performed military service and are now disabled, rather than for service-connected disabilities. Nationally of the 754,759 World War I veterans drawing benefits, 672,125 are non-service connected and only 82,634 receive compensation.

According to Ratliff, in Kentucky 1,920 World War I veterans receive compensation and 13,345 receive pensions.

An additional 185,363 veterans who served in other periods including 2,458 from Kentucky receive VA compensation because of service-related illnesses or injuries.

Veterans who served during an acknowledged period of war who have limited incomes, but who can no longer work because of disability, whether related to their service, may be eligible for benefits, according to Ratliff. Full information is available at the VA Regional Office, 600 Federal Place, Louisville 40202.

Bluegrass Solid Waste Disposal Corporation

LEXINGTON, Ky.—Alfred Quartin, director of the Bluegrass Regional Health Planning Council, Inc., was elected chairman of the board of directors of the Bluegrass Solid Waste Disposal Corporation at its annual meeting held recently at the Spindletop Research Center in Lexington.

John Butler, magistrate of Bourbon County, was elected president; Melvin Hampton, mayor of Cynthiana, was elected vice-president; and Alven McElhenny, Spindletop Research, was elected secretary-treasurer. Butler and Quartin were also appointed to the Executive Committee.

Guests included Cabell Francis, Stanford; Sam Johnson, Kentucky Health Department; Oliver C. Vico, Carlisle; Bruce Weddle and Steve Lingle, U.S. Public Health Service; H.W. Frank J. Croaschelle, Kentucky Program Development Office; and Robert A. Gibson, Bluegrass Comprehensive Health Planning Council.

The corporation grew out of the Bluegrass Solid Waste Demonstration Project which is being performed for the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare by Spindletop Research, Inc. The project seeks to solve the problem of trash and garbage disposal in the 17-county Bluegrass area through the non-profit corporation.

"The corporation," said Quartin, "represents a major step in developing a management system for the disposal of solid waste, designing a technical system (sanitary landfill) for actual disposal of waste, and determining how the system can best be financed from public and private sources."

In addition to Quartin, Butler and Hampton, members of the board include: C.M. Brooking, Scott County; Joseph Discher, Franklin County; J.G. McDowell, Nicholasville; Rube T. Kubale, Boyle County; A.P. Alap, Frankfort; A.H. Eason, Danville; B.L. Brandenburg, Easton County; Floyd Clark, Nicholas County; Russell Powell, Irvine; P.B. Byrd, Barren; C.G. Hendershot, and Robert F. Stephens, Fayette County. Plans, however, call for the board to be expanded as other counties and cities become participants.

Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q) My children are now in school and I've started back to work. My husband is claiming all their exemptions on his return. What should I do on mine?

A) Since the same exemption should not be claimed on two taxpayers, do not claim any withholding exemptions on your job unless your husband drops them.

To avoid owing additional tax at the end of the year, you may want to have your employer withhold taxes on a child's person's tax. In many cases where both husband and wife work, not enough is withheld.

Q) Can I give my 16-year-old son a shotgun and take him hunting with me without breaking any federal gun laws?

A) Yes. Under the 1968 Gun Control Act you may not buy a shotgun or ammunition for a child under 18. However, this does not mean that you cannot supply him with what he needs.

Q) I don't understand the letter I got from IRS. What should I do?

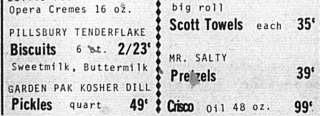

Q) Contact your local IRS office and explain the situation received as the person holding the tax return for an action may be necessary.

Q) Some of the deductions claimed were disallowed because all I had were checks made out to cash to back them up. I thought checks were good records?

Q) They are in most cases but a check made out to cash does indicate the nature of the expense. To substantiate an expense your records should indicate the date paid, amount and nature of expense.

Q) Are GI's in Vietnam on their pay?
