Kay's Kitchen

By Kay Fisher

To the many friends who have said why don't you write a food column in the Mercury, I'm flattered.

My problem is how much is a dash, a scoop, a pinch, a bit or a glub glub. Well lucky for you who will try the majority of recipes, they are ones that have been tried many times and were given to me by friends who also enjoy cooking. If you don't like to cook, I would suggest you stick with opening cans and boiling potatoes.

I will try to present the contributed recipes just as they come to me--just as you might have received them from a friend. Hope you will enjoy trying them, or if you don't feel that energetic, perhaps you will enjoy sitting down and reading about them. So, share your receipes with others by mailing them to Kay's Kitchen, The Carlisle Mercury, Carlisle, Ky. 40311. Recipes may be brought to the office or dropped through the slot in the door.

Since George Washington's birthday is coming up try this instead of cherry pie.

Cherry Pudding

Heat 1 can of red sour cherries with ¾ cups sugar.

Melt 1 stick of margarine or butter in 1 1/2 quart Pyrex dish. (Use 7 1/2 x 11 1/4 size.)

Make a batter of 1 cup sugar, 1 cup flour, 1 1/2 teaspoon baking powder, pinch of salt and 2/3 cup sweet milk. Use milk more or less to make a smooth batter not too thin.

Pour the batter over the melted margarine, then the cherries and juice on top of batter. Do "not" stir. Bake 350 degrees until brown--about 30 to 45 minutes. Cut in squares. Serves 8 generously. This is good served warm with prepared whipped topping or a scoop of ice cream. If you have any left it is good cold.

Should you want to dress this up a bit add a few drops of red food coloring and 3/4 cup chopped pecans to the cherries before pouring over batter.

With this dessert you don't need too much. Why not pork chops floured and browned slowly in a very small amount of margarine or cooking oil, salt and pepper. When browned on both sides almost cover with water, bring to boil and turn heat low, sprinkle with Lawry's Seasoned Salt and a generous dash or two of Worcestershire Sauce and cook covered until chops are tender. Time depends on thickness of chop. Pork however should always be cooked long and slowly. Turn chops serveral times while cooking--about 1 hour. Buttered Lima beans go nicely with this. Remember if you use the frozen ones, it takes longer than the 15 minutes suggested on the package. When tender add a tablespoon of butter or margarine and salt to taste. Serve bread of your choice. You know your family and their appetite. You can always add boiled potatoes, to go with the juice from the chops.

Back to the cherry pudding. You can use blackberries, when in season or canned ones, sweetened to taste.

Nursing Home News

By Virginia Smith Donovan

As I recently opened the National Retired Teacher's Magazine I found this poem which was written by William Cullen Bryant's younger brother, John Howard Bryant when he was 91. I doubt if my mother, the late Mrs. Ida Smith, who died at 92, hardly ever heard of "Thanatopsis" or William Cullen Bryant, but I believe this poem is very fitting.

Ninety-one years have passed me by; My sun is in the evening sky; Its hour of setting must be nigh.

Still earth is beautiful and bright; Glorious the morn's returning light; Welcome the peaceful hours of night.

And' spite of all life's pains and fears; Its disappointments, griefs, and tears, Kind Heaven I thank for all my years.

Flowers still I love, the woodbird's psalm; The summer twilight's breath of balm, And fruitful autumn's golden calm.

And though the course my life has run, Few wrongs I've felt by others done, But kindly deeds by many a one.

Friends of my youth and manhood gone; Alas, they left me one by one, And sleep beneath the graveyard stone.

But faithful friends are near me still, Who serve me with a free good will, As I go tottering down the hill.

I saw these plains, lone, fair and strange, The wild beast's unobstructed range; Labor has wrought this mighty change. Born on by time's eternal flow, The hour is near when I must go; But when or where I cannot know.

Standing by the departing gate, Without a fear of future fate, Still loving life, I calmly wait.

Shakespear said that all the world is a stage and every man plays a part, I think my mother played a "big" part.

We shall try to have more nursing home news.

Home Economics Visited By Nellie Meadows, Artist

Mrs. Nellie Meadows, known as the new artist of Kentucky, was guest speaker for the Blue Grass Extension Agents in Home Economics, Thursday, Jan. 29, at the Old South Inn in Winchester.

Mrs. Meadows spoke to this professional group on how she began sketching and painting wild flowers. Wild Flowers grow in Mrs. Meadows' own back yard since her home is located on the banks of the Red River in Clay City, Ky. Mrs. Meadows was born in the Foothills of Kentucky and has much interest in the area and is interested in sharing it with others and preserving this for future citizens in watercolor media.

The Blue Grass Extension Home Economists is a professional group who are interested in keeping up-to date professionally and alert to the developments in the area which affects the clientele which they serve.

'A Spiritual Oasis In Pagan Desert' Theme Of Baptist Program Sun., Feb. 22

The Brotherhood of the Carlisle Baptist Church will give a dramatic production entitled, "A Spiritual Oasis in A Pagan Desert" on Sunday morning, Feb. 22. The Baptist Brotherhood is a group of men headed by Paul Stone as director. Several of the young men and boys of the church will participate in addition to the regular members of the Brotherhood.

Those participating will be: Cleary Fishtmaster, D.P. Parsley, Paul Stone, Eugene Snapp, Raymond Bruce, Wayne Mann, Tony Fryman, David Snapp, David Darrell, Billy Ray Hunter, Steve Kimberling, Don Allen Darrell, Eddy Shearer, Jay Morford, and Bobby Snapp.

The drama is set in the time of young Josiah, King of Judah, in 639 B.C. The story of the drama concerns the reform movements which Josiah tried to carry out after his father Amon, and grandfather Manasseh, had so desecrated the temple and the interpretation of the law of Moses.

Prior to the dramatic presentation at 10:40 a.m., the men and boys of the church will meet for a breakfast at 7:30 a.m. After a rehearsal of the drama the boys and men will join their families for the Sunday School hour.

Scholarships To Be Awarded At M.S.U.

The School of Sciences and Mathematics at Morehead Stated University again is awarding 15 scholarships to high school students based on competitive examinations in five academic areas.

The grants, effective this fall, are $800, $400 and $200 in biology, chemistry, geoscience, mathematics and physics.

Brochures explaining the second annual program have been distributed to every high school in Kentucky.

Students interested in the geoscience grants do not need high school geology courses to qualify. Physical science or general science is sufficient background.

High school seniors applying for the scholarships are to take exams Feb. 28 on the MSU campus. Students may compete in two subject areas but will be eligible for only one grant.

The first place winner in each subject will receive a four-year scholarship valued at $200 yearly. Second place carries a two-year grant worth $400. Third position will receive a $200 grant for one year.

Each continuing scholarship is renewable each year only if the recipient maintains an overall grade point average of 2.5 and a major field average of 3.0, based on a 4.0 scale.

MR. AND MRS. PATRICK SEE

Miss Susan Talbert Becomes Bride Of Mr. Patrick George See Feb. 7

On Feb. 7, at 4:30 p.m., the Carlisle United Methodist Church was the scene of the marriage of Miss Susan Colville Talbert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R.L. Talbert of Carlisle, and Mr. Patrick George See, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph See of Hudson, Wis.

The church was illuminated by matching candelabra and was decorated with palm fronds and gladiolus. A program of traditional wedding music was provided by Mrs. Sterling Blake, organist and Mr. R. L. Talbert, soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a princess gown of candlelight satin trimmed with Alecon lace and seed pearls. The cathedral train, which fell from the shoulders, was of candlelight satin. The cathedral length veil was of matching bridal veiling. The bride carried a bouquet of ivory wedding roses and carnations.

Miss Jane Talbert sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore a full length lime green linen dress with a fitted waist. The bodice of the dress was tucked and trimmed in ivory lace as were the cuffs of her sleeves, and the high Victorian collar. Her floor length veil of green fell from a matching lime green headpiece. She carried a nosegay of pink roses and carnations. Mr. Joseph See, father of the bridegroom, served his son as best man.

Officiating at the ceremony was the Rev. Herman Kalmage. He was assisted by Rev. James Norsworthy, immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the educational building of the church. Miss Kathy See, sister of the bridegroom, presided at the guest book. Miss Judy Hopkins officiated at the serving tables.

Mrs. See is a graduate of the University of Kentucky College of Nursing and is presently employed by the Travelers Insurance Company in Los Angeles, Calif. Mr. See was graduated from Wisconsin State University at Eau Claire and is presently employed as a management trainee at W.T. Grant and Company in Inglewood, Calif. The couple will make their home in Pasadena, Calif.
