Notice To Nicholas County Property Owners!

Two weeks ago I published in this newspaper a notice that the Dept. of Revenue had refused to accept the valuation placed on real estate in this county due to the fact that full valuation had not been reached. The Revenue Dept. ordered me to revalue the entire county. This order has been carried out, however 100% has not been reached.

Some of those taxpayers who came to this office and listed their property the first part of the year are receiving notices by mail that certain changes are being made. This notice will let those who did not come to the office and list their property know that certain changes are also being made.

The tax rolls will be open for inspection June 19, June 20, June 22, June 23 and June 24. The Board of Supervisors will convene on June 25 to hear any appeals.

It must be remembered that under the compensating rates that are in effect at this time, when values go up, the tax rates come down.

While the new valuation is not 100% full value, I believe that the Revenue Dept. will accept these figures for this year. Again let me say that I regret this action.

Sincerely Yours,

A. V. "Doc" Allison
