

This Is Barkley Lodge

BARKLEY LODGE in Kentucky's Lake Barkley State Resort Park is a triumph of functional beauty. Shown here is the vaulted end of the lodge building that bisects the sweeping semicircle of the guest units. The steps lead to the swimming pool and the boat dock beyond.

Hunting and Fishing in Kentucky

By Harry Towles
FRANKFORT, Ky.,—An sport that is attracting more and more outdoor enthusiasts and often providing delectable food for the table is frog hunting. Time was when a person who wanted a morsel of frog legs would have to buy them—and they usually came from out of Kentucky. It is now possible from somewhere west down south.

NURSING HOME NEWS

World War picture and Mr. Smalley says the picture was taken Feb. 26, 1918. Lizzie Ratliff didn't have to work last week end, said she really had a good time. On Saturday she went shopping in Mr. Sterling and Flemingburg. Sunday she was visited by her daughter and family, Mrs. Robert Beagle of Winchester.

LETTERS

Editor, The Carlisle Mercury:
As of May 13, an all-out two-month campaign will be launched to combat the DRINKING AND DRIVING problem that is the cause of so many deaths and injuries on our highways.

place more emphasis on traffic safety by using the DRINKING DRIVER, editorials and news releases to be distributed by the Traffic Safety Coordinating Committee during the next eight weeks. This campaign is aimed at informing the public of the hazards and penalties for DRINKING AND DRIVING, and a great part of this obligation is in your hands, since your paper reaches the eyes of every Kentuckian.

UK President Issues Statement On May 6

The following statement was issued at 9:40 p.m., some members of the group started throwing rocks at the R.O.T.C. building and at the entrance to the building. At this time, after observing the commission of unlawful acts and determining that property and life were threatened, and that the campus security force could not contain the crowd, our Director of Safety and Security requested assistance from the Kentucky State Police and the Lexington Police Department.

Motor Vehicles

Motor vehicle licensing to others appear mostly irrefragable to 15 and 16-year-olds in Kentucky, according to 1969 auto-theft figures compiled by Kentucky State Police.
