Nursing Home News

By Virginia Smith Donovan

Don't neglect the chance today to do some kindly act, or pay a little compliment with thoughtfulness and tact.

It's what we learn after we think we know it all that counts.

The first chloroform for use as an anesthetic in America was believed produced by a Nova Scotia druggist and the year was set at about 1833.

Happy birthday, Mrs. Lula Kash (Nov. 2). She had a party on her 85th birthday. Her niece, Annette Burnaw; daughter, Frances Royce; roommate, Mrs. Essie Dalzelle, and part of her family enjoyed ice cream and cake.

The Hardins, big and little, were around again Sunday to see Lawrence Price. They all enjoyed a ride to Blue Licks and saw the scenery and the many things in the museum.

Billy Layson was around one day to see several of the residents; don't know whether he passed around chewing tobacco to all or not. John Smitson, who uses his "forgetter" real often didn't forget Billy's visit or the chewing tobacco.

Georgia Clark hasn't been working at the home for several months, but she and Wilbur were around to visit friends Sunday afternoon and were welcomed guests.

We are sorry to hear of Dorothy Blake's illness and hospitalization.

Willie Sargent had company Sunday from Lexington and Fairview.

The millionaires of eternity are the givers of time!

The parent's life is the child's copy book.

It's getting hard to keep up with J.P. Barbee's company. He really needs a visitor's book. His son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Barbee came from Washington; Roy's son and two grandchildren came from Chillicothe, OH; his brother, Otho Barbee and wife from Detroit, and brother, Wilmore came from West Union, OH.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harney came from Paris on Sunday to visit Robert's mother, Mrs. Ida Harney.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Smart of Paris visited Harvey Ellison and Orville Howard. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ellison of Falmouth visited them too.

Lolly Caswell came Saturday and took her aunt, Mae Berry for a ride.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Craig came Sunday to see Guy's aunt, Mrs. Grace Cleaver and mother, Mrs. Pearl Craig. They came from Robertson County.

Nurse Vivian Lyons had a few days off. She's been trying to see parts of Kentucky. She was so busy, didn't have time to tell us; maybe she will later.

Mr. and Mrs. Collins Hall of Paris came Sunday to see Nettie B's aunt, Mrs. Hollis Dalzelle.

Blanch Vice had been working at the hospital since May but recently came back to work at the home. We are glad to see you Blanch.

Mrs. John Wilson came from Paris and visited Miss Effie Anderson and Mrs. Eliza Ockerman on Sunday.

"Cedar" and "Tony" McDonald took a little "spin" Sunday afternoon and went up to visit their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Norville of Lexington.

Mrs. Chrissie Steya was reputed to be 143 years old when she died recently in South Africa.

To remove rust from the corners of cake tins that have been in use for a long time, dip a raw potato in cleansing powder and scour.

Mrs. William Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Robertson of Robertson County visited their aunt and sister, Mrs. Grace Cleaver on Sunday.

As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men. --Galatians 6:10

(He asked for it) Minister: And what does your mother let you do when you've been an especially good little girl, Mary?

Mary: She lets me stay home from church.

Do you remember when your mother tested her cake with a broom straw to see if it were done?

In our day we may not need tools for constructing log chapels. But we do need the tools of patience, forgiveness, humility, courage, faith, and most of all love. With these we can make our hearts places for God and His peace to dwell.--Upper Room

With the peace of God in our hearts, we can face troubled times with patience.

Spring may be closer than you think. Mrs. Essie Dalzelle had on her table a tooth pick holder which contained 28 violets. These were picked in the yard of a friend. Several of the employees spoke of picking violets in their yards last week.

At this writing Walter Stone is the only one in the local hospital.

John Clay has left the home for a while and is living in town with his sister-in-law, Miss Nell Craycraft.

Roy Snapp, who was living with his daughter, Ruby, in Ohio, is now back in the home. Ruby had a fall which didn't help her much, but when she gets better, Mr. Snapp says he'll go back to Ohio.

Herman Conyers, wearing his Sunday suit, Wednesday night, went down the hall. He said he was on his way to the Mt. Pleasant Church to prayer meeting; said some friends would pick him up.

Ethyl Goodwin is a new patient, didn't learn where he hailed from, but his name looks like it belongs to a lady or a brand of gasoline.

Wednesday night Willie Sargent had more visitors. They were Mr. and Mrs. James Gonyer of Winchester, and Mrs. Opal Adamson and Mr. and Mrs. John Martin Brown of Fairview. Mrs. Adamson said before coming to the home Mr. Sargent lived with her family.

Kay's Kitchen

By Kay Fisher

Thanksgiving dinner is more than likely the next big meal you will prepare. If you are an old hand at baking a turkey, you will not need this. However I'm sure there are many who like to refer to a recipe.

Select a turkey in size suitable for your family. Here is a chart for cooking the stuffed bird: 8 to 10 pounds, cook 18 minutes per pound or 2 1/2 to 3 hours; 11 to 14 pounds, 3 to 3 3/4 hours; 15 to 18 pounds, 3 3/4 to 4 1/2 hours; 19 to 24 pounds, 4 1/2 to 5 1/2 hours. Oven temperature moderately hot, about 375 to 400 degrees.

This is for a foil wrapped turkey. Brush the turkey with melted fat, seal edges. Seal does not have to be perfect. Place the wrapped bird in open roasting pan and cook in preheated oven. If you do not use the foil wrapped method, cook turkey in open roaster at lower temperature, about 325 to 350 degrees and increase cooking time. Test for doneness by sticking a cooking fork into meaty part of leg. When done the fork will go in easily and be tender.

In either method of cooking I always cook the bird, breast down. During last 45 minutes of cooking time, turn turkey breast side up and brown. Baste once or twice. If you have cooked it in foil, remove foil and right bird and brown.

I'm sure you know how to simmer the giblets and neck until tender to make broth for gravy and to use to moisten dressing.

DRESSING: The day before I bake a pan of cornbread about 8 inch square. Allow about 1 cup of dressing per pound of bird. I usually use two large sandwich loaves of bread, crust and all, pulled into pieces about the size of marbles. You don't have to be so particular. Add cornbread. Season with salt, pepper, melted butter, one finely chopped onion, about 1/2 cup finely chopped celery, a bit of sage to taste, or use a prepared poultry seasoning. Moisten with broth.

Remember stuff the turkey lightly. The dressing swells as it cooks. Don't make the dressing soggy by adding too much broth. If you have dressing left, make into balls and bake on greased pan until brown at 400 degrees.

Of course you can buy good seasoned dressing in packages and moisten with broth.

Serve vegetables of your choice. A compote of spiced fruit is an attractive addition to this holiday meal.

For dessert try this traditional pumpkin pie.

PUMPKIN PIE

3 eggs, slightly beaten
1 cup granulated sugar
1/2 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1 teaspoon flour
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg
1/4 teaspoon ground allspice
2 1/2 cups canned pumpkin
1 (13 ounce) can evaporated milk
9 inch unbaked pastry shell

Combine eggs, sugars, flour, cinnamon, salt, nutmeg, and allspice. Blend in pumpkin gradually; add milk, and mix well. Pour into 9 inch unbaked pastry shell. Bake at 450 degrees for 10 minutes, then at 350 degrees for 40 minutes or until a knife, inserted about halfway between center and outside edge of pie, comes out clean. Cool.
