Several Parking Regulations Approved By Council

City Council met in regular session Monday night and approved several parking restrictions unanimously.

The City is to paint yellow lines on north side of East Main Street from Walnut to Dorsey Avenue; to remove two more meters from corner of Chestnut and Broadway (Library corner) and paint yellow lines to paint 50 feet yellow in front of Clay Manor Apartments from Broadway to Chestnut.

The motion of Elm and West Main for 30 feet; to put no parking signs on right side of entrance to Douglas Court for 50 feet; to paint yellow lines 20 feet on corner of Arch-deacon and East Main; and to place no parking signs on east side of Eastern Avenue, across from Catholic Church.

The Streets and Alleys Committee chairman, Mrs. Jane Ellen Booth moved that City street signs be repaired or replaced as needed, and that other needed regulatory signs be purchased. The motion passed unanimously.

Another motion was passed to treat the Metcalfe property and the other lots in the section belonging to Eugene Neal as a subdivision according to the Zoning Ordinance. It was stated that this situation of a private drive going to several lots is no different than a similar one on West Main developed by Meredith Evans and Emery Clark.

In the West Main situation, the Council minutes were read where the City agreed to maintain the sewer line after the developers built it at their own expense. The developers also agreed to install curb and gutting on the private street which services the three houses on it.

Council decided to provide utility lines to the Neal property in accordance with the Zoning Ordinance.

The City Attorney, Joseph H. Conley, was directed to check all building permits which have previously been granted to see if the stipulations have been, or are being met, particularly regarding curb and gutting provisions of the Zoning Ordinance. Chief of Police, Allen Earlywine was given permission to purchase a used radar set for $300 if it proves satisfactory on a trial basis. The set sells for $1240 if purchased new.

Council also agreed to put in a telephone cable so that the maintenance radio can become operable. The radio has been inoperable since the City offices moved into Clara Fighner's building, because he will not allow an antenna on the building.

Council agreed to advertise for bids to purchase a new city truck and a portable gas engine. The vendor desired would be one which would find leaks in main and branch service lines. It would cost $300 a day to rent a truck engine, which would only find leaks in the street. The City is looking for its gas purchased. Mayor, Bill Power announced that gas rates will necessarily have to be increased, since Columbia Gas has already made one increase and on Nov. 16 plans to make another one.

The meeting was adjourned until the next regular meeting which is scheduled for Monday, Oct. 19, at 7:30 p.m.

Police Report for September is as follows: Speeding, 10; Public Drunk, 1; Improper Starting, 1; Paid on Old Account, 1; Disorderly Conduct, 2; making a total of 25 arrests.

Fines, $644.00; meter deposits, $46.25; making a total of $690.25 collected for September.

Highlights

class of hunters have sprung the numerous field trial associations. Perhaps the inception of the field trial was the Grand Circular Foxhunt, announcement of which appeared in the American Turf Register.

"The citizens of Jefferson, Berkeley, and Loudoun Counties, Virginia, and Washington County, Maryland, are respectfully invited to a Grand Circular Foxhunt, at Whiting's Neck, on Friday, the first day of January, 1830."

The third, and much less numerous class of advocates of fox-hunting ride to bounds in the orthodox English manner.

Hunting, almost more than any other form of sport, lends itself to the development of personal qualities such as patience, consideration for others, and initiative, and gives an opportunity for pleasant social gatherings.

It has been said that the fox enjoys the hunt as much as anyone. If he didn't, he could run immediately to his den from which he rarely does, deliberately keeping up in front of the hounds.

In 1738 the English Colonial became acquainted with the common gray fox and imported the red fox from England, turning them out along the shore of Chesapeake Bay.

The red fox has a habit of making great circles when being pursued while the gray fox seeks to elude capture by dodges and doublings.

Funeral services were conducted at 2:30 p.m., Saturday, from the Mathers-Shearer Chapel, by Rev. James Norsworthy. Burial in the Carlisle Cemetery. Pallbearers: Russell Barlow, George Gaffin, Fred McDonald, Luther Tinscher, Bobby Harper and East Veach Delaney.

I do not think a date has been determined as to when the fox came to be considered as an animal of the higher chase.

In the work of "Nimrod" (C. J. Appery) entitled "The Chase," there is an extract from a letter from Lord Anson, dated Feb. 1833, in which the writer says that his ancestor, Lord Arundel, kept a pack of foxhounds between 1690 and 1700 and that they remained in the family till 1782 when they were sold to the celebrated Hugh Keywell of Coedmon Hall, Llanelli, Carmarthen.

So we can assume from this that hounds were bred and used solely for foxhunting during that period.

The sport of riding to bounds has inspired poets, authors and artists. It is no wonder that for those engaged in the hunt feel close to nature and mankind.

Foxhunt Association Officers to be Here

J. Wade Walker, president of the Kentucky Foxhunting Association of Lancaster, and John Carr, secretary, Auburn, will arrive in Carlisle on Friday, Oct. 9, to review all organizational details for the 1970 hunt, which begins on Monday, October 12.

Roy Blount and Roger C. Womack, co-chairman of arrangements, urge local interested persons to attend the various functions of the hunt, especially the banquet and dance, in addition to the fox hunt.

The banquet and dance are social functions that will give the citizens of Nicholas County an opportunity to meet and welcome the visiting hunters.

Everyone should take advantage of the opportunity to participate in this big sporting event. It promises to afford the ultimate in relaxation and fun.
