Nursing Home News

By Virginia Smith Donovan

Lift up your eyes to the mountains, Breathe deeply the crisp sweet air, Listen to the murmuring waters...The spirit of peace is there,

We are sorry we didn't mention the 90th birthday of Mrs. Hattie Smoot on Aug. 13, She received quite a few gifts and her faithful family came one by one to see her.

Mrs. Cora Gaunce's niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. B.E. Holmes of Carlyle, IL. visited her recently.

Orville Howard had several visitors the past week. They were from Fleming and Robertson counties.

Mrs. Stella Watkins had a very pleasant surprise Sunday afternoon, Mrs. Nancy Summay Skaggs of Mt. Sterling came to visit her, To hear them talk, you wouldn't have thought Mrs. Watkins had forgotten a thing. The last time they had seen each other was 20 years ago when Nancy's mother and father observed their 50th wedding anniversary, which Mrs. Watkins attended.

Mrs. Gertrude Woodall's school teacher son and family came to see her Sunday. They took Mrs. Woodall for a drive in the country around Stoney Creek and Goose Creek.

Landen Stewart's nephew, Stewart Otte, came Sunday and took him to Lexington.

Uncle Tom Jackson said everyone had gone crazy. When he was asked how he knew, said he could tell by the way they acted! This may be more truth than poetry.

The word impossible is never used where there is love,--Albert Einstein -

Herman Conyers was in Millersburg Saturday night, and went to the funeral home there.

Mrs. A.J. King is recuperating after receiving a painful burr at her home. She is sharing the room with her husband.

J.P. Barbee's brother, Wilmore Barbee, of West Union visited him. Along with him were Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Mitchell and family. Mrs. Mitchell is Mr. Barbee's niece. His two sons made the regular trip from Mason and Fleming counties. L.B. Blake and family of Fleming County came too.

"Doc" Abnee's niece, Ruth Dotson Chambers, came from Robertson County to see him and his sister, Nonie Sellers came too.

The man who came up the hard way says about all you can do on a shoestring these days is trip on it.

The most difficult thing for a mother to remember is that other people have perfect children too.

Miss Marjorie Brayfield of Lexington visited her aunt, Miss Cordia Bell on Wednesday.

At this writing, the only ones in the hospital are Mrs. Mae Berry and Harvey Ellison.

Mrs. Vivian Lyons has recently returned from a few days visit in Indiana.

Mary and Roger Sledd made the usual Sunday visit to see Mary's father, Joe Burden.

Norma Harney of Lexington visited her mother, Mrs. Grace Cleaver on Sunday.

The weekly worship service was held Sunday afternoon, Rev. D.T. Brandenburg, retired minister of the Presbyterian Church, was the speaker. He read the 1st Psalm and talked about the happy man. Not many of the residents were able to attend, but listened from their rooms, Mr. Brandenburg said he went to visit an old friend, Earl Smathers, but found him asleep, Mr. Smathers was an elder in the first church Mr. Brandenburg ever had at Sharpsburg.

Mrs. Mertie Jones has had quite a bit of experience in nursing homes observing the senior citizens. All the residents love her each place she goes, Here is a copy of a letter which she wrote and sent to each one of her six children. We think the way she expressed herself is lovely, and want to share it with all of the "Mercury" readers.

Dear Son and Daughter,

I hope you can spare a few minutes from your busy schedule to read this last letter from me. You know my eye sight is failing and my hands are crippled from the infirmities of old age.

As I sit in my room, silently, lonely, waiting for the sun to set in yon distance, I think of all the past experiences of this life. I see you as a small babe in my arms and tears fill my eyes, I was so happy. I had so much to do in the future, to train you to love, honor and obey your parents and to do justice to your country and fellow man. And above all to be obedient to God, These duties I have done faithfully.

I toiled through the years and gave you all I possibly could, Those were the long hours of labor, until my back ached and I was weary at the end of the day, I wept for you when you were sick, I prayed for your success, which you now have attained, I gave my all without complaint and I strived for no earthly reward.

The sun is almost set and I will soon join my Heavenly Father. The only request of you now is to do unto your children as I have done unto you. Visit me as often as you can and bring my flowers while I may enjoy them. The only possession I leave you is my love. I hope at the end of the path, you can say as I am saying, "Life is beautiful, mixed with happiness and sorrows--The reward is great!"

Your loving parent,
A Senior Citizen

Use Fresh Produce

Your garden should have many delicious vegetables just waiting to be cooked, canned or frozen. You may also have apples, blackberries and other fruits.

Some people have written in wanting to know whether blackberries are safe to eat in a locust year. YES, blackberries are perfectly safe to eat even though it is a locust year.

1. Gather foods when they have the best flavor. The quality of canned food will not be any higher than the quality of the raw food. The flavor changes very fast after food is gathered, and should be canned as soon as possible.

2. All fruits should be ripe but firm. Fruits that are partially green usually do not have as good a flavor. Small fruits such as berries and plums should be picked over carefully, discarding the sour or bruised ones.

3. Vegetables should be young and tender and freshly gathered. Vegetables that are too old for canning, will be darker and and will not have as good a flavor as you are expecting.

4. Get everything ready for canning before you start preparing food. It makes canning easier, and the color and flavor of the food will be better when you prepare food for canning as quickly as possible. Check jars to make sure they are sound and wash and scald them. Turn them upside down on a clean cloth. This will keep the jars clean while you are preparing the food.

5. Use the pressure cooker for canning meats and vegetables except tomatoes, rhubarb, sauerkraut. This is recommended by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Use the boiling water bath for canning fruits, including tomatoes, rhubarb and sauerkraut. Fruits are acid foods and can be safely canned at boiling temperatures.

For information on canning and freezing, contact Margie H. Wilson, County Home Economics Extension Agent.

1930 Graduating Class Holds 40th Reunion On August 22

The 1930 graduating class of 42 members of the Carlisle High School met for their 40th reunion luncheon at Town and Country Restaurant, Saturday, Aug. 22,

Harry Galbraith, vice president, gave the opening address. Prof. Joe T. Embry gave the invocation.

The class prophecy was re-read, the four who started in the first grade, Jeanette Barr, Mary Lois Campbell, J.B. Hamm and Jane Ross, were mentioned. The number of children each graduate has was given. The names of the seven who have died were read: Jeanette Barr, 1943; Helen Holmes, 1955; Helen Clary, 1961; Roger Dunn, Harold Durham and Bertha Ledford, 1968; and Ethel Smoot, 1969,

Miss Nancy Talbert expressed her pleasure in being with the class again. Letters from Woodson Knight, class president; Mrs. H.M. Williamson (Princess Gaffin), Sagear Kash, J.B. Hamm, and William Schwann were read. The members agreed to meet again in five years.

The table was decorated by Mrs. George Dale.

Those present were Raymond Kerns, Richmond; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Talbert, Lexington; Mrs. John Mitts (Christie Wills), Cornith; Miss Hallie Griffin, Mary Lois Campbell, Mrs. W.J. Clark, (Lucille Whaley), Mrs. Reynolds Allison (Lois Smith), Harry Galbraith, Mr. and Mrs. George Dale, Mrs. Omer Anderson (Ruth Elrod), W.J. Alexander, Mrs. Robert Jennings (Geneva Giblin), Mrs. Alton Kerns (Jane Ross), and George Gaffin.

Invited guests were Miss Nancy Talbert, E.E. Pfanstiel, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe T. Embry, Standford.

The average size farm in the United States in 1969 was 377 acres, one-third larger than in 1959.
