Mr. and Mrs. Emery Wilson of Stanford visited Emery's aunt, Mrs. Cordia Bell on Sunday. As usual Emery was carrying a package.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Smathers of Sharpsburg came Sunday to see Mrs. A. M. Smathers. Her face is her fortune, and it runs into a nice figure.

Heredity is something you believe when your child's report card is all A's.

Joy, Temperance and Broom slam the door on the doctor's nose... Longfellow. Old worn down nose cut away fine make good stuffing for pillows.

There was a mistake in last week's news. Thelma Morris had a family dinner at her house. Thelma was present, but Thelma wants us to know that she does not have 17 grandchildren!

At this writing, John Clay, Harvey Ellison, and Laurence Price are in the local hospital. The home at the present time has 44 residents and 57 employees. There is a capacity for 50 patients.

Thelma Morris really gets around. Saturday she and her daughter, Charlotte Tindler and little daughter went to Cynthiana shopping. Sunday Thelma and Rose took a basket of goodies and went to Harrison Chapel Methodist Church for a reunion.

There was a big crowd. They saw many old friends. There was a fine morning service, and at noon everything one could think of to eat. In the afternoon, they were entertained with music by the Ballie family. Even the Ballie grandchildren sang.

Mrs. Gertrude Story of Lexington recently visited her father, George Sooby.

Mrs. Tealy Rose of Ludlow came Thursday to see her mother, Mrs. Stella Watkins.

Mrs. Grace Cleaver has a faithful family. Her husband, Ruben, who is 82, drives and comes to see her every day at noon and feeds her.

Mrs. Cleaver's son, John comes every afternoon and feeds her. Her only daughter, Norma Harney, who lives at Lexington, comes every Sunday to see her mother.

"Think and remember: Most of us expect too much from others and not enough from ourselves."

A thoughtful wife is one who has the pork chops ready when her husband comes home from a fishing trip.

Herman Coover has had a great time for several days reading McGuffey's Fourth Reader. He says he begins each story he soon remembers the contents and the good lesson therein.

George Sooby can now boast of five generations. The five generations visited him Sunday and took pictures. They were the following: George Sooby, great-great-grandfather, Ethel Sooby, Wincheater, great-grandmother; Delora Gannoe Howard, Paris, grandmother; Mrs. Donna Howard Hinton, Paris, mother; and Quinton Dale Hinton, Mr. Sooby's great-great-grandchild.

Did you hear about the last of the big spiders from Texas? This rich Texan, attracted by a big crowd at the beach, rubbed over and discovered that his wife was being revived after nearly dying.

"What are you doing for her?" he asked. "Rubbing her artificial respiration," replied the lifeguard.

"Artificial," retorted the Texan angrily, "give her the real thing, I can afford it!"

I want to give to others hope and faith; I want to do all that the Master said; I want to live aright from day to day; I'm sure I shall not pass again this way.
